

Academic Divisions

Adapted from Faculty Rules and Regulations, February 2007, Version 5.4

NOTE: Departments, Centers, and Programs are divided into four sections for nominating purposes. Centers and Programs are indicated by an asterisk (*). Faculty members who are not part of a Department, Center, or Program, or whose appointment is in more than one section, may choose the section with which to be identified.

Humanities

---

Ancient Studies*	Languages, Center for the Study of*
Biomedical Ethics*	Medieval Studies*
Classics	Modern Culture & Media
Comparative Literature	Music
East Asian Studies	Old World Archaeology & Art*
Egyptology	Philosophy
English	Portuguese & Brazilian Studies
French Studies	Religious Studies
German	Renaissance Studies*
Hispanic Studies	Slavic Languages
History of Art & Architecture	Theatre, Speech & Dance
Italian Studies	Visual Art
Judaic Studies*

Life and Medical Sciences

---

Brain and Neural Systems*	Medicine, School of cont.
Biology*	Family Medicine
Cognitive & Linguistic Science	Molecular & Biochemical Pharmacology
Gerontology and Health Care Research*	Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology
Human Development (Child Study)*	Neuroscience
International Health*	Obstetrics & Gynecology
Medicine, School of	Orthopaedics
Artificial Organs, Biomaterials, & Cellular Technology	Pathology & Laboratory Medicine
Behavioral and Preventive Medicine*	Pediatrics
Biochemistry	Psychiatry & Human Behavior
Biomedical Engineering*	Radiation Medicine
Community Health	Surgery
Clinical Neurosciences	Public Health Program*
Ecology and Evolutionary Biology	Psychology

Physical Sciences

---

Advanced Materials Research*	Engineering
Applied Mathematics	Fluid Mechanics, Turbulence and Computation*
Chemistry	Geological Sciences
Computer Science	Mathematics
Dynamical Systems*	Physics

Social Sciences

---

Africana Studies	International Relations*
Alcohol and Addiction Studies*	International Studies*
American Civilization	Latin American Studies*
Anthropology	Pembroke Center*
Comparative Study of Development*	Political Science
Economics	Population Studies*
Education	Race and Ethnicity in America*
Environmental Studies	Secondary Education*
Feinstein World Hunger Program*	Sociology
Foreign Policy Development*	Taubman Center for Public Policy & American Institutions*
History	Urban Studies*
History of Mathematics

