A NEW SHERIDAN CENTER SERVICE!

Grant Consultations

Many curricular grants (NSF, NEH among them) now require that pedagogical strategies be addressed as part of the application. The Sheridan Center staff, including its four Faculty Teaching Fellows, has been invited to participate in several such grants over the last few years. Our assistance might include reviewing proposed teaching innovations, use of instructional technology, being cited as part of the ongoing pedagogical support offered by Brown, and providing services to support and evaluate innovations during the implementation of the grant.

If you are presently considering or working on a grant application which includes teaching strategies and/or innovations, the Center is ready to help in whatever way suits your proposal most effectively. We look forward to hearing from you.
