

The Department of Africana Studies welcomes
Chinua Achebe to Brown University.

PHOTO: DARRYL ESTRINE

Chinua

Achebe

Chinua Achebe is the David and Marianna Fisher University Professor and professor of Africana studies. The Education of a British-Protected Child is a newly published collection of autobiographical essays. Achebe's first novel, Things Fall Apart, appeared in 1958 and is considered a seminal novel in African literature. It has sold more than 12 million copies in more than 50 languages. Achebe has received a Margaret Wrong Prize, the New Statesman Jock Campbell Prize, the Commonwealth Poetry Prize, and the 2007 Man Booker International Award.

Writers' welcome and Chinua Achebe conversation with President Ruth J. Simmons

Tuesday, November 10, 2009

4 p.m. ■ De Ciccio Family Auditorium ■ Room 101
Richard and Edna Salomon Center for Teaching
Brown University

Free and open to the public / Wheelchair accessible

BROWN