

DEPARTMENT OF EAST ASIAN STUDIES

PERMISSION FOR SENIOR CAPSTONE COURSE

This course is to be selected from among the courses offered in the East Asian Studies concentration at the 100-level or above. Permission of the instructor must be obtained before a student may designate a course as his/her capstone course. In the final research project for this course, the student will bring to bear particular interests or particular expertise developed during his/her concentration on the analysis of an issue or theme that emerges from within this course. The end product will be a more substantial paper than would ordinarily have been required for the course. Expectation is that the capstone course will be a course within the students major 'track'.
