

Brown University
Department of Hispanic Studies
Application for Admission to the Honors Program

Description:

Candidates for Honors in Hispanic Studies are supposed to have an excellent academic record and the ability to work independently. A candidate will have received no grade lower than "A" in the concentration program. Exceptions to this policy must be approved by the Department.

Candidates will apply for admission to the Honors Program during their junior year, or at the latest by the end of the third week of classes of the seventh semester. The application must include a brief description of the thesis topic, which may be on an academic topic or a creative project, and the signature of the first reader. Upon admission, a second reader will be chosen by the student in consultation with the first reader.

Theses are normally written in Spanish and ordinarily range from 40-80 pages. Students are expected to work with the first reader and to respect deadlines for completion of the outline and final version of the thesis, which must be submitted by the end of the week after Spring Vacation. At the end of the semester there will be a meeting at which honors students will give a short presentation on their work. Honors is officially granted only when the student's two readers approve the complete thesis.

Application Procedure: Please submit a complete application at the end of semester 6 or at the beginning of semester 7 to the Concentration Advisor. The Department will determine whether the student merits admission to the Honors Program.
