

How Do I Get Involved?

Contact Darrell West, Director, Taubman Center for Public Policy, Brown University, Providence, RI 02912 (Phone: 401-863-1163 or email: Darrell\_West@Brown.edu)

Or Send This Form To:

Friends of Public Policy
Taubman Center for Public Policy
67 George Street
Brown University
Providence, RI 02912-1977

Name: _____

Address: _____
_____
_____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

For more information on Center activities, visit www.Brown.Edu/Departments/Taubman\_Center/

Friends of Public Policy Brown University

The Taubman Center

The A. Alfred Taubman Center for Public Policy and American Institutions is an interdisciplinary unit founded in 1984 at Brown University. Its mission is research, teaching, and community service focused on the areas of education, health care and human services, urban policy, law and criminal justice, and media and technology. The Center sponsors an undergraduate program in Public Policy and offers master's degrees in Public Policy and Public Affairs. Drawing on faculty from across the university, the Center works to develop concrete solutions to real-world policy problems. Over the course of its history, the Taubman Center has graduated over 600 alumni, brought dozens of distinguished speakers to campus, produced innovative research, and contributed to the College Hill community through public service.

BROWN

Friends of Public Policy

The Friends of Public Policy is a group of alumni, parents, and other individuals dedicated to improving public policy in the United States and around the world. At a time when policy makers are confronted with the challenge of providing adequate education for children, ensuring access to quality health care, creating affordable housing, and navigating the complexities of the legal justice system, there is a great need for well-trained public policy students. Friends provide support and advice regarding the future of the Taubman Center.

Quotes:

“As one of the first concentrators in Public Policy, I have seen the development of the Center from its earliest days. It has been exciting to see the track record of excellence in teaching and research led by Public Policy faculty and the benefits that have arisen from the involvement of faculty in a range of related academic disciplines. Today in the context of President Simmons’ Plan for Academic Enrichment, Public Policy is a focal point of efforts to boost interdisciplinary studies at Brown.”

Jon Rozoff ‘85

Friends’ Activities

- participation in annual meetings
- career advice to public policy undergraduate and graduate students
- strategic planning assistance for the Taubman Center
- promoting the vision of the Center
- sharing experience and expertise in focus areas
- contributing to the Center’s growth and development

Benefits of Friends Membership

- invitations to annual meeting
- special seating at major lectures and conferences
- receptions with distinguished guests and visitors
- engagement with Center faculty
- discussions of path-breaking research
- meetings with undergraduate and graduate students
- updates through Center newsletters and annual reports

“Our best assets are the terrific students and innovative faculty we have at the Taubman Center. Through a variety of programs, we seek to improve the training available to the next generation of leaders. If we can make progress with the top-notch students we have at Brown, there is hope for the world.”

*Darrell M. West
Director, Taubman Center*

