"The Green Home CD-ROM" is about a new "green" way of building and operating your home ... a way that reduces utility bills, saves energy and water, reduces pollution, minimizes the release of hazardous materials into the environment, and makes your home safer, healthier, quieter, and more comfortable. The CD-ROM includes a three-dimensional walk-through of a green home, hundreds of screens of environmental information (a green home library), actions you can take right now to make your home greener, interactive calculations and exercises, and digital videos from a Planet Neighborhood public television series.
