At the conclusion of the exercises the graduating seniors are asked to remain in place while the color guard and the platform party leave the grounds of the Meeting House, until directed to leave by a marshal or an aide. The assembly will then move to the College Green for the University ceremony. (See page 4.)

THE MEETING HOUSE OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH IN AMERICA

The Meeting House, completed in 1775, was built "for the Publick Worship of Almighty God, and also for holding Commencement in." Central parts of the Brown Commencement ceremonies have been held here ever since. Moreover, during their tenure three Brown presidents were also ministers of this church, and all of the presidents who held office between 1764 and 1937 were Baptist clergy.

The conferral of degrees will take place on the grounds of the Meeting House and then continue with the senior orations at the University ceremony on the College Green. Today's ceremonies keep the class of 2008 together and maintain a meaningful and substantive portion of the Commencement ceremony on the Meeting House grounds.

THE PHYSICIAN'S OATH

Now being admitted to the high calling of the physician, I solemnly pledge to dedicate my life to the care of the sick, the promotion of health, and the service of humanity.

In the spirit of those who have inspired and taught me, I will seek constantly to grow in knowledge, understanding, and skill and will work with my colleagues to promote all that is worthy in the ancient and honorable profession of medicine.

The health and dignity of my patient will ever be my first concern. I will hold in confidence all that my patient relates to me. I will not permit considerations of race, gender, sexual preference, religion, nationality, or social standing to come between me and my duty to anyone in need of my services.

This pledge I make freely and upon my honor.

Brown University's 18th President

RUTH J. SIMMONS

Ruth J. Simmons was sworn in as the 18th president of Brown University on July 3, 2001. Under her leadership, Brown is making new investments to secure its standing as one of the world's finest research universities.

A French professor before entering university administration, President Simmons also holds an appointment as a professor of comparative literature and of Africana studies at Brown. She graduated from Dillard University in New Orleans before completing her Ph.D. in Romance languages and literatures at Harvard. She served in various administrative roles at the University of Southern California, Princeton University, and Spelman College before becoming president of Smith College, the largest women's college in the United States. At Smith, she launched a number of initiatives, including an engineering program – the first at an American women's college.

Simmons is the recipient of many honors, including the German DAAD, a Fulbright Fellowship to France, the 2001 President's Award from the United Negro College Fund, the 2002 Fulbright Lifetime Achievement Medal, and the 2004 Eleanor Roosevelt Val-Kill Medal. She has been a featured speaker in many public venues, including the White House, the World Economic Forum, the National Press Club, the American Council on Education, and the Clinton Global Initiative, and has spoken on a wide array of educational and public policy issues, including institutional governance, diversity, the importance of liberal arts, women in science, the impact of internationalization on higher education, and access to education. Simmons is a member of the National Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Philosophical Society, and the Council on Foreign Relations, and serves on a number of boards. She has been awarded the Centennial Medal at Harvard University, as well as numerous honorary degrees.

THE ALMA MATER

TUNE: "Araby's Daughter," George Kiallmark
(1781–1835)

TEXT: "Alma Mater," James Andrews
DeWolf, class of 1861 (1839–1909)

Alma Mater! We hail thee with loyal devotion
And bring to thine altar our off'ring of praise;
Our hearts swell within us with joyful emotion
As the name of Old Brown in loud chorus we raise.

The happiest moments of youth's fleeting hours
We've passed 'neath the shade of these time-honored walls;

And sorrows as transient as April's brief showers
Have clouded our life in Brunonia's halls.

Notes on Commencement and the Procession

Commencement day at Brown University is a time of great ceremony, pageantry, and rejoicing, much of it representing traditions that are centuries old.

COMMENCEMENT HISTORY

The seventh-oldest college in the United States, Brown was founded in 1764 as the College of the Colony of Rhode Island under the leadership of the Rhode Island Baptists.

The first Commencement was held on September 7, 1769, in the College's then home, the Baptist Meeting House in Warren, Rhode Island. Seven young men were awarded degrees. The institution moved to Providence the following year.

For the six years prior to the Declaration of Independence, Commencement ceremonies were held in Father Snow's Meeting House in downtown Providence, now Beneficent Congregational Church. In 1776 the ceremony moved to the First Baptist Meeting House, built in 1774–75 to house the oldest Baptist church in America, founded by Roger Williams in 1638. Erected "for the publick Worship of Almighty GOD and also for holding Commencement in," the meeting house is now a National Historic Landmark.

In the early days, Brown's Commencement was known as "the festival of Providence," widely attended by townfolk. So disorderly was their conduct that in 1791, the Rhode Island General Assembly passed a law requiring the high sheriff of Providence County to attend all Commencements "to preserve the peace, good order, and decorum in and about the Meeting House." The sheriff still marches, identifiable by full evening dress, high silk hat, blue sash, and sword.

During the 20th century, members of Brown's alumni classes began to hold five-year reunions to coincide with Commencement weekend. Today more than 4,000 alumni and their families return to College Hill each year for a series of events capped by the Commencement procession on Sunday morning.

THE PROCESSION

Sunday morning, while the Commencement procession forms on the College Green, the Brown Band begins to play the litting "Brown Commencement March." The music is punctuated by the pealing of the College bell, which has rung from the cupola of University Hall since 1791; it is joined by the Meeting House bell, imported from England in 1775.

As the procession marches from the campus down College Hill to the Meeting House, it passes through the Van Wickles Gates, which swing open only twice a year: inward to admit new students at Opening Convocation in the fall and outward on Commencement Day to discharge the degree candidates.

The parade is led by the chief marshal, a member of the 50-year reunion class; and by the chief and assistant chief of staff. They are followed by the color guard and alumni aides and marshals from the reunion classes. The men traditionally dress in top hats and tails, while women wear academic robes. The faculty, alumni, graduating class, present and emeriti members of the Brown Corporation, invited guests, and the presidential party round out the mile-long procession. At one point, the procession stops and forms an inversion to allow each marcher to pass by all the others, to mutual applause.

THE MACE

Once a weapon used to crush an opponent's armor, the mace is now a symbol of authority. Brown's mace, which weighs more than 20 pounds, was given to the University in 1928. It is adorned with symbols from Brown's past and with the names of its presidents and prominent 19th-century alumni. The mace is carried in processions at the opening of the academic year, at Commencement, and at ceremonies where honors or degrees are to be awarded.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The president's academic gown, and the golden chain and pendant that adorn her neck, became the official presidential regalia during the University's bicentennial celebration in 1964–65. The robe was designed by the late Anne S.K. (Mrs. John Nicholas) Brown, an expert on military and ceremonial dress. The caps, gowns, and hoods of others in the procession represent a tradition of academic dress that began in the 12th and 13th centuries, when they were adapted from clerical garb.

ACADEMIC HOODS

A scholar's hood, worn around the neck and hanging down the back, denotes degree, field, and alma mater. The band of velvet circling the outer edge of the hood varies in width according to the highest degree attained: narrow for the bachelor's degree, medium for the master's, and broad for the doctorate. The color represents the field of scholarship: arts and letters, white; economics, copper; education and pedagogy, light blue; engineering, orange; humanities, crimson; law, purple; medicine, kelly green; music, pink; philosophy, blue; science, gold; and theology, scarlet. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution attended by the wearer. A Brown University hood is lined in seal brown crossed by a broad band of cardinal red.

THE MANNING CHAIR

This office chair belonged to Stephen Hopkins, Brown's first chancellor, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and an early Rhode Island governor. It was used by Brown's first president, James Manning, and has seated successive presidents on Commencement Day and at their inaugurations.

CONFERRING OF DEGREES

The conferring of undergraduate degrees is accomplished verbally on the grounds of the Meeting House, and the presentation of symbolic diplomas comes later on the College Green. Still later in the day, the seniors receive their actual diplomas at individual departmental ceremonies. The Graduate School and Medical School have separate convocations for the awarding of advanced degrees.

THE CEREMONY ON THE GREEN

Following the senior orations, the University ceremony takes place. The president bestows diplomas on representatives of each category of baccalaureate degree and then speaks this admonition: Videte igitur ut probe, integreque, in emolumentum rei publicae et in Dei honorem, ut decet eos hoc gradu honoratos vos geratis. "Take care that you conduct yourselves, with probity and integrity to the credit of the state and the honor of God, as befits those who have been honored with this degree." The ceremony continues with the symbolic awarding of the medical and graduate degrees. A benediction concludes the formalities on the College Green.

Departmental ceremonies immediately follow the ceremony on the Green. Each ceremony is conducted by the department chair and attended by faculty, a representative from the Corporation or administration, the degree candidates, and parents and guests. The ceremony sites are listed at the end of the Commencement program.

Candidates for Honorary Degrees

EDWIDGE DANTICAT '93 M.F.A. Doctor of Letters

A native of Haiti, Edwidge Danticat earned a B.A. in French literature from Barnard College and, in 1993, an M.F.A. in creative writing from Brown. Her thesis became the basis for her 1994 novel, Breath, Eyes, Memory, which later became an Oprah's Book Club selection.

Danticat is the author of several books, including Krik? Krak!, a National Book Award finalist, and the widely acclaimed novel-in-stories, The Dew Breaker. She is also the editor of The Butterfly's Way: Voices from the Haitian Diaspora in the United States and The Beacon Best of 2000: Great Writing by Men and Women of All Colors and Cultures. Her latest book, the memoir Brother, I'm Dying, was a 2007 finalist for the National Book Award and a 2008 winner of the National Book Critics Circle Award for autobiography. She has taught creative writing at New York University and the University of Miami.

JUDITH JAMISON Doctor of Fine Arts

A native of Philadelphia, Judith Jamison is a director, choreographer, and author. She made her New York debut with the American Ballet Theatre in 1964 and became a member of the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater in 1965. Ailey created some of his most enduring roles for her and appointed her artistic director in 1989.

Jamison has appeared as a guest artist with ballet companies all over the world, and she has starred on Broadway and in a PBS special depicting her creative process. As a highly regarded choreographer, she has created works for many companies and the Olympic games. Today she presides over a renewed Ailey organization and is artistic director of the Ailey School, where she helped implement a multicultural curriculum and establish a B.F.A. program with Fordham University. In 1999, Jamison was presented with the Kennedy Center Honor, recognizing her lifetime contributions to American culture through the performing arts.

MATTHEW J. MALLOW '64, P'02 Doctor of Human Letters

Matthew J. Mallow, a 1964 graduate of Brown, headed the corporate finance department of the international law firm Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP for 25 years, where he has represented investment banks, global corporations, and governments in a variety of financing matters. Mallow is a former chair of the Committee on Securities Regulation of the New York City Bar Association. He earned an LL.B. and LL.M. from New York University School of Law.

Mallow has been a member of the Brown Corporation for 17 years. For the past 10 years, he has served as treasurer. He currently co-chairs Boldly Brown: The Campaign for Academic Enrichment, the largest fundraising effort in University history. During his tenure on the Corporation, Mallow has served on 19 committees, including student life, budget and finance, audit, facilities and design, and presidential selection. He also served as chair of the Brown Annual Fund.

CHARLES ROBERT REDFORD Doctor of Fine Arts

Robert Redford is best known for his distinguished film career – as an actor in such notable films as Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, The Sting, and All the President's Men; and as director and producer of many others. In 1981 he founded the Sundance Institute to support emerging screenwriters and directors and the exhibition of independent cinema.

An ardent conservationist and environmental activist, Redford served as a trustee of the Natural Resources Defense Council and founded the Institute for Resource Management, which brings together environmentalists and industrialists to resolve conflicts and promote sustainable development. He has won numerous awards for his film and environmental work, including the Directors Guild of America Award, the Golden Globe, an Oscar for directing Ordinary People, the Screen Actors Guild's Lifetime Achievement Award, and an Honorary Academy Award. In 2005 he received a Kennedy Center Honor for his "distinguished achievement in the performing arts and in recognition of his extraordinary contributions to the life of our country."

SHIH CHOON FONG

Doctor of Science

Shih Choon Fong is internationally recognized for his significant contributions in nonlinear fracture mechanics and computational methods for fracture analysis. With some 150 publications in leading scientific journals to his credit, he is among the world's most highly cited researchers in engineering. Since becoming president of the National University of Singapore in 2000, he has fostered a research-intensive focus and elevated the university's global reputation.

Shih received his Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1973 and was a member of the Brown faculty from 1981 to 1997. He has been a consultant to NASA, Oak Ridge National Laboratory, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, and others. Among his many honors and affiliations, he was elected a foreign honorary member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Earlier this year, it was announced Shih will become founding president of the King Abdullah University of Science and Technology in Saudi Arabia on December 1.

MARIA T. ZUBER '86 PH.D.

Doctor of Science

Maria T. Zuber '86 Ph.D. is the E. A. Griswold Professor of Geophysics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the first woman to lead its Department of Earth, Atmospheric, and Planetary Sciences. Since earning a Ph.D. in geophysics from Brown, she has studied the structure and evolution of the terrestrial planets and has been an innovator in the application of spacecraft laser-ranging and radio-tracking systems to map the topography and gravity fields of the planets.

Zuber has led spacecraft instrument investigations that have flown to the moon, Mars, and asteroids. The topographic map of Mars produced by her laser altimeter on the Mars Global Surveyor spacecraft is the most accurate topography model for any planet. She has been honored by NASA and many professional scientific organizations, and in 2002 Discover magazine named her one of the 50 most important women in science.

WENDY J. STROTHMAN '72

Doctor of Humane Letters

With 30 years of publishing experience, Wendy J. Strothman, a 1972 Brown graduate, led the turnarounds of two venerable publishers, Beacon Press and Houghton Mifflin's Trade and Reference Division. At Houghton Mifflin, Strothman was the publisher of books that won two Pulitzer Prizes, one National Book Award, three Caldecott Medals, and two Newbery Medals, among many other honors. In 2003 she founded the Boston-based Strothman Agency, which is dedicated to representing authors of significant books of nonfiction and fiction for adults and young adults.

Known as an advocate for freedom of expression and a friend to independent booksellers, Strothman has received numerous awards, including the Publisher of the Year Award from the New England Booksellers Association. Elected a trustee of the Brown Corporation in 1990, she has served as a trustee, fellow, and, for the last 10 years, as secretary of the Corporation. In 2002 she established the Wendy J. Strothman Faculty Research Award in the Humanities to fund research by the Brown faculty.
