I am pleased to present the third edition of the Academic Enrichment Initiatives status report. This report was first disseminated in October 2002 and outlines many of the major strategic goals and initiatives that are being developed and implemented as a part of the Academic Enrichment Initiatives. The text in red indicates changes and additions in the months since the last edition was published in February 2003.

In the time since the first phase of the Academic Enrichment Initiatives was approved by the Corporation in February 2002, we have made significant progress in developing a longer-term plan for Brown and in implementing the first parts of that plan. This long-term plan focuses on enriching Brown’s academic programs while also establishing priorities in campus life and student support, facilities and infrastructure needs, and financial planning and fund-raising for the coming decade and beyond. Indeed, some of the additions to this status report begin to reflect the broader context of our recent planning.

I hope that you share my excitement about our progress on the Academic Enrichment Initiatives and my appreciation for the amount of work undertaken by the University community to strengthen Brown. I look forward to sharing our long-term plan and our further successes with you in the coming months.

Ruth J. Simmons

Text in red denotes new actions since February 2003 status report

Observations

- Identified areas in immediate need of additional faculty
- Appointed approximately 33 FTE faculty in temporary positions for 2002-2003
- Recruited 38 new faculty members in 2002-2003, including 15 for positions created as part of the Academic Enrichment Initiatives, with one additional hire pending
- 27 new searches planned for 2003-2004 for new faculty; five searches carried over from 2002-2003; 26 replacement searches planned for 2003-2004; faculty size reached 652 regular members, its largest ever
- 25 of 100 new positions reserved for target-of-opportunity programs
- President and provost developed the criteria and process for appointments
- First two target-of-opportunity appointments accepted, one in progress
- Brenda Allen appointed associate provost and director of institutional diversity to lead a campus diversity office
- Academic Priorities Committee made recommendations for expanding academic programs in March 2003
- Inaugurated five multidisciplinary initiatives: the Humanities Research Center, the Environmental Change Initiative, the Initiative in Spatial Structures in the Social Sciences, the Center for Computational Molecular Biology, and the Center for Genetics and Genomics
- Established a new broad affiliation with the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, including graduate programs, research collaborations, and faculty exchanges
- Announced the establishment of the John Nicholas Brown Center – American Civilization Public Humanities Program
- Searches underway for faculty directors for several initiatives
- Formed new Committee on Inter-Institutional Collaborations to explore Brown RISD relations
- Allocated an additional $5 million to faculty salaries in 2002-2003 over and above normal increases, with $3 million more to be allocated over the following two years
- Outpaced peer institutions in faculty salary increases in 2002-2003
- Increased our success in retaining our faculty (retained 11 faculty members and lost only four in 2002-2003)
- Plan under review for enhanced faculty development program, including more frequent leaves of absence
- Two new family-friendly policies developed and approved: a semester of teaching relief for care of a new child and an extension of the probationary period before tenure
- Launched a new Mortgage Assistance Partnership Program
- Established a process to allocate merit and equity increases in 2003-2004
- Continue improving faculty benefits programs
- Developed more competitive salary and start-up offers
- Attracted $750,000 for new faculty ventures
- Raised a $1 million fund for humanities support
- Allocated an additional $3 million to faculty salaries in 2002-2003 over and above normal increases, with $3 million more to be allocated over the following two years
- Consider significant additions to the budget for improved recruitment efforts and research support for new faculty
- Associate provost and director of institutional diversity to lead a campus diversity office
- President and provost developed the criteria and process for appointments
- First two target-of-opportunity appointments accepted, one in progress
- Brenda Allen appointed associate provost and director of institutional diversity to lead a campus diversity office
- Consider further expansion of the faculty (beyond the 100 in the initiatives)
- Build on multidisciplinary areas of special interest and strength
- Further planning and implementation for new multidisciplinary initiatives
- Provost and Academic Priorities Committee will recommend new areas of focus for further expansion of the academic program
- Provost

Future Directions

- Initiate a process to allocate merit and equity increases in 2003-2004
- Continue improving faculty benefits programs
- Consider significant additions to the budget for improved recruitment efforts and research support for new faculty

- October 2003
Operational Plan

The Board of Fellows commissioned an external review of Executive Vice President for Provost to better promote and support faculty research, identify transferrable intellectual property, and identify potential external and internal research collaborations.

- Created vice president for research position and appointed Professor Andy van Dam
- Revised conflict of interest policies
- Appointed associate vice presidents for research administration and for technology partnerships
- Drafted guidelines for making seed funding available to Brown faculty to compete for large-scale, multidisciplinary grants
- Disseminated and administered research funds for FY03, including new humanities and social sciences department funding ($350K), Salomon funding ($350K), and seed funds ($350K), and equipment cost-sharing ($350K)
- Created Brown Technology Partnerships from Brown University Research Foundation to assist faculty in finding opportunities to use commercialization as a means to enhance the impact of their work
- Forged strong relations with key governmental agencies, including the Rhode Island Economic Policy Council and the Rhode Island Development Corporation; VP for research elected chair of the governor’s new Science and Technology Council and asked to serve on the mayor’s Economic Development Council
- Forged a working relationship with the University of Rhode Island to solicit funding from the National Science Foundation

- Develop a plan for building and sharing technology transfer infrastructure with our seven affiliated hospitals
- Identify opportunities for new research programs across departments and disciplines
- Develop a large-scale, multidisciplinary grant-seeking program by supporting proposal writing, creating incentives, and building research productivity
- Develop a strategic plan for federal funding by agency and by appropriation effort
- Develop programs to educate faculty, students, and staff about rights, responsibilities, and opportunities related to research
- Review, revise, and draft policy in the areas of technology transfer, privacy, other compliance issues, and research reporting
- Create a Faculty Advisory Board for Research
- Create an external advisory group for technology transfer and intellectual property issues and for the development of new corporate partnership programs
- Move the Office of the Vice President for Research to improved and expanded offices in Horace Mann in early December
- Review departmental research computing needs with Computing and Information Services
- Develop a Web site to feature Brown research

Provide competitiveness funding and program enhancements to allow Brown to recruit and retain the best graduate students.

- Allocated $1.2 million in 2002-2003 to support health insurance costs for all graduate students
- Allocated $300,000 to increase University fellowships to $14,000 in 2002-2003
- Allocated an additional $600,000 in summer 2002 for summer support for students in the humanities and social sciences
- Funding provided to assist with diversity efforts in recruitment
- Increased departmental recruitment funding
- Completed an administrative review of graduate school systems and services
- Revised admission procedures to enable departments to compete for the best graduate students
- Planning underway for near-term improvements to graduate student housing
- Received 6,064 applications for admission to the Graduate School in 2003-2004, an increase of 25% over the previous year and 40% since 2001
- Launched new graduate programs in modern culture and media, in biology through the Marine Biological Laboratory, and in theatre, speech, and dance through the Brown/Trinity consortium
- Established the Task Force on Teaching and Doctoral Education
- Further increased graduate student stipends to $14,500
- Increased summer support for students in the humanities and social sciences for the second year in a row
- Increased funds to support graduate student travel to conferences and professional development by $120,000
- Raised funds to launch a program to shorten student time to degree

- Dean of the Graduate School to lead a discussion of a national leadership role for Brown in graduate education
- Explore possibilities for the enhancement and expansion of long-term graduate student housing
- Continue to seek ways to increase funding for graduate student support
- Move Graduate School to improved and expanded offices in Horace Mann in early December
- Explore the development of professional master’s programs in selected areas
- Coordinate new graduate programs with the University’s academic priorities

Examine the curricular and financial relationships of Bio-Med and the University at large to ensure the long-term success of biology and the Medical School.

- The Board of Fellows commissioned an external review of Bio-Med in preparation for recruiting a new dean
- The Medical School began an internal strategic planning effort
- Review team visited campus, submitted report in January 2003, report distributed and recommendations under review
- Established a task force to review and recommend changes to the current curriculum
- Completed the strategic plan for teaching and research in biology and public health
- In-depth discussions underway for enhanced affiliations with hospitals
- Formed the search committee for the new dean of medicine and biological sciences

- Continue review of the recommendations and implement as appropriate
- Develop a financial plan for Bio-Med and the Medical School
- Coordinate research enterprise with the hospitals

Increase support for the University Library and develop a long-term plan for improvement
• Added $1 million to the library’s base budget beginning in 2002-2003 to improve acquisitions support
• Purchased building for off-site annex to free on-campus space for new acquisitions; renovation underway with occupancy expected in fall 2004
• Allocated funding for a technology classroom in the library
• Established new consortial relationships to improve access to collections at other universities
• Allocated funding to improve the libraries’ public spaces
• Allocated new funding for the acquisition of an additional 10,000 volumes, 1,500 new serials, and targeted acquisitions in area studies
• Acquired Luna Insight Software to create, manage, and present digital images using the Internet
• Completed cosmetic improvements to the John Hay Library, Orwig Music Library, and the lobbies and selected reading areas of the Rockefeller and Sciences Libraries
• Drafted long-term plan
• Completed renovation of the Rockefeller Library’s Periodicals Reading Room
• Number of current serials in collection grew to over 20,000, moving Brown’s ranking in the Association of Research Libraries’ “serials held” category from 101 to 86
• Launched the Center for Digital Initiatives to produce digital materials for use in scholarship and teaching; to “digitize” signature collections and promote their use through databases, programs, and applications; and to offer consulting services to library and academic units
• Acquired Luna Insight Software to create, manage, and present digital images using the Internet
• Completed cosmetic improvements to the John Hay Library, Orwig Music Library, and the lobbies and selected reading areas of the Rockefeller and Sciences Libraries
• Drafted long-term plan
• Completed renovation of the Rockefeller Library’s Periodicals Reading Room

Upgrade the technology infrastructure to better support teaching, learning, and research
• Made significant investments in network and classroom technology upgrades during summer 2002
• Adopted WebCT, an on-line course-management system, during summer 2002, rolled out system in spring 2003, used in 250 courses
• Began offering a “service-on-site” option and established a professionally staffed help desk that responded to 13,300 calls in fall 2002
• Began the process of selecting an administrative “enterprise” system that will provide better access to and management of University data
• Created a team of three full-time professionals to oversee network security
• Continued to upgrade and extend the University’s network and put in place a multi-year plan to implement network changes
• Implemented the first phase of campus-wide deployment of Microsoft Exchange for integrated email, calendaring, and collaboration
• Revised expanded plans for administrative systems; introduced a system that enables prospective students to access their admission decisions and financial aid awards via the Web
• Introduced several classroom and Web programs that promote the use of new technology in teaching and learning
• Offered 250 courses to staff through the Computer Education Program
• Wireless network access made available at selected library and other campus locations
• Negotiated a contract with Dell to offer students, faculty, and staff personal computers at greatly reduced prices
• Negotiated a license for anti-virus software, available at no cost to students, faculty, and staff for their home and office computers

Build on Brown’s strength in undergraduate education by increasing opportunities for undergraduate research, improving access to small classes, and fostering substantive collaborations between students and faculty

Reduce student-to-faculty ratio through expansion of faculty
• Faculty expansion underway (see previous page)
• Added approximately 140 courses for 2002-2004
• Improved the student-to-faculty ratio to 5:1 (as reported to U.S. News and World Report in 2002-2003, reduced from 10:1 reported in 2000-2001)
• Continue faculty expansion
• Provent
• Dean of the Faculty
• Dean of the College
• Interim Dean of Medicine and Biological Sciences

Develop and introduce a program of freshman seminars
• Added 23 freshman seminars for 2002-2003
• Analyzed the initial results of a survey of seminar participants, suggesting very positive outcomes of the program
• Continue assessing effectiveness of program and seek external funding as appropriate
• Continue expanding program, with a goal of 60 seminars by 2004-2005
• Dean of the College

Encourage undergraduate research activities and faculty and student small group interactions
• Dean of the College allocated new funding in 2001-2002 to support Research at Brown and Departmental Undergraduate Groups (DUGs)
• Funding reallocated in 2002-2003
• Dean of the College working with UCS to encourage the creation of DUGs; launched new DUG Web site
• Expanded the Group Research Project, an undergraduate research initiative
• Enhanced undergraduate advising programs, including a new sophomore advising initiative, an expanded advising partnership program, and a redesigned advising Web site
• Assess effectiveness of programs and seek ongoing funding as appropriate
• Dean of the College
• Interim Dean of Medicine and Biological Sciences
• Vice President for Research

Build an outstanding senior administration group to facilitate effective near- and long-term planning and to support the academic mission

- Appointments to date include:
  - Robert Zimmer, provost
  - Richard Spies, executive VP for planning
  - Elizabeth Huidekoper, executive VP for finance and administration
  - Ronald Vanden Doperle, senior VP for University advancement
  - Ellen Waite-Franzen, VP for computing information services
  - Andy van Dam, VP for research
  - Karen Newman, dean of the Graduate School
  - Richard Bodzin, interim dean of medicine and biological sciences
  - Brenda Allen, associate provost and director of institutional diversity
  - Russell Carev, VP and secretary of the University
  - David Greene, interim VP for campus life and student services
  - Melanie Conm, interim VP for public affairs and University relations
  - Marisa Quinn, assistant to the president
  - Conducted a comprehensive review of the organization of the Office of Campus Life
  - Completed a broader organizational review of the effectiveness of non-academic organization
  - Created a risk-management network and a crisis-management plan

Improve Brown as a workplace and acknowledge the extraordinary efforts of staff

- Implement special increases in staff salaries and improve benefits for staff and faculty
  - Increased staff salary pool for FY03
  - Raised minimum salaries to $10 per hour
  - Expanded staff tuition assistance program
  - Implemented a $250,000 bonus program for staff in fall 2002
  - Provided raises to the majority of the staff for FY04
  - Launched a new Mortgage Assistance Partnership Program
  - Initiated the Human Resources Administrative Advisory Board, composed of faculty, students, and staff, to provide advice and feedback on human resources policies and procedures
  - Continue reviewing salary and benefits programs
  - Develop effective and meaningful methods of rewards and recognition

- Identify areas requiring additional staff or other operating support as a result of the Academic Enrichment Initiatives
  - Completed organizational review, led by the executive vice president for finance and administration
  - Implemented a series of organizational changes to focus personnel on academic enrichment priorities
  - Determine where new staff will be required to support new faculty
  - Consider additional staffing needs in “Brown First” departments

► Ensure the long-term success of Brown’s academic mission by raising the underlying capital necessary to support ambitious goals for research and educational programs

| Retracture advancement functions to better coordinate efforts | Completed an external review of development and advancement areas, resulting in a recommendation to join development and alumni relations under the oversight of a senior vice president for advancement | | Senior Vice President for University Advancement |
| | Ron Vandenberg Dorpel hired as senior vice president for University advancement with oversight of all advancement functions | | |
| | Reorganized the Advancement Division to improve development performance and alumni relations effectiveness | | |
| | Undertook an exhaustive assessment of advancement information systems for major reorganization | | |
| Increase alumni giving and engagement | In FY12 new efforts to build the Brown Annual Fund resulted in a record total of over $7 million raised (an increase of 14.4% over the previous year) and a 16.5% increase in the number of donors | Continue efforts to engage greater numbers of alumni with the University | Corporation |
| | Once again the Brown Annual Fund grew at unprecedented levels in FY05: a 15% increase in gift dollars – from $27.1 million in FY02 to $31.7 million in FY03 – and a 14% increase in donors to over 25,500 | | President |
| | Increased alumni awareness of and engagement with Brown by recruiting 90 new class leaders; creating or strengthening four distinct affinity groups to help achieve and sustain diversity; and developing a model for campaign volunteer organization | | Campaign Chairs |
| Prepare for a major fund-raising effort | Planning for a comprehensive campaign underway | Develop a significant base of major-gifts prospects | Senior Vice President for University Advancement |
| | Developed campaign budget and implemented a complete review of existing advancement budgets | Recruit and train campaign volunteer leadership | Alumni Volunteers |
| | Plotted a detailed campaign timetable, drafted a table of needs, and proposed a working goal for use in the feasibility study | Begin the quiet phase of a comprehensive campaign in FY04 | |
| | Compiled a new and comprehensive list of campaign naming opportunities, gift levels, and policies | Solicit gifts for the nucleus fund of the campaign, with a target of generating one-third of the gifts required to attain the campaign’s ultimate goal | |
| | Articulate design and planning principles and standards to guide long-term development of the campus | Initiate campaign | |
| | Develop a regular program of maintenance and upgrade for our facilities and technologies | | |
| | Follow up on master plan recommendations concerning spaces on and near the campus that can accommodate expansion | | |
| | Develop a long-term transportation management plan | | |
| | Develop signage to highlight renovation and new construction associated with the Academic Enrichment Initiatives | | |

► Undertake a program of capital improvements that align facilities planning with academic needs

| Undertake a comprehensive and inclusive master planning process | New York architect and planner Frances Halband hired to lead master planning process in June 2002 | | President |
| | Initiated planning process in summer 2002 with a review of planning materials and meetings with administrative staff | | Executive Vice President for Planning |
| | Frances Halband met with faculty and numerous campus and neighborhood/city groups in fall 2002 to identify new directions for campus growth | | Facilities Management |
| | Presented initial findings of master planning process in spring 2003 | | Executive Vice President for Finance and Administration |
| | Draft of the master plan in final stages | | |
| | Developed real estate acquisitions and divestment guidelines | | |
| | Provost chairing an internal Space Committee to monitor space needs and develop plans for meeting those needs | | |
| | Renew and reconfigure buildings recently acquired or recently vacated for new faculty and develop plans for meeting other near-term space issues | | Provost |
| | Most projects designed to renovate and adapt vacant space to accommodate new faculty are underway | | Executive Vice President for Planning |
| | Identified options for enhancing research space capacity in the near term | | Executive Vice President for Finance and Administration |
| | Space in the Jewelry District identified and under negotiation for new laboratory space | | Interim Dean of Medicine and Biological Sciences |
| | Life Sciences Building (LSB) construction underway | | |
| | Developed and implemented a communications plan for internal and external constituents regarding LSB construction | | |
| | Look broadly at the use of space on campus to determine guidelines and priorities for the use of space | | |
| | Determine fair and effective methods for dealing with space needs and requests | | |
