

Animating Archives: Making New Media Matter December 3-5, 2009 Brown University

Kelly Gates Assistant Professor in Communications and Science Studies University of California, San Diego

"Archiving the Face"

This talk considers the face as an archival project: how faces circulate in archives as disembodied identities, and how the face itself is envisioned as an archival form, a field of classifiable information about the person.