

The contested past in the acropolis at Athens, Greece:
modernism and the monumentalization of the classical past, silencing of the rest

Ayodhya, Uttar Pradesh, India, December 6, 1992
archaeological site as a contested place of violence

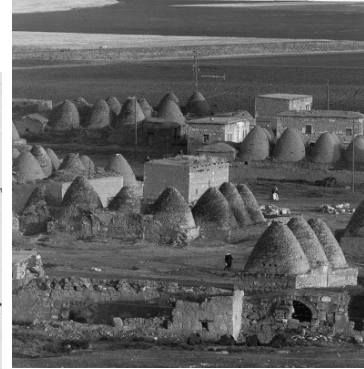

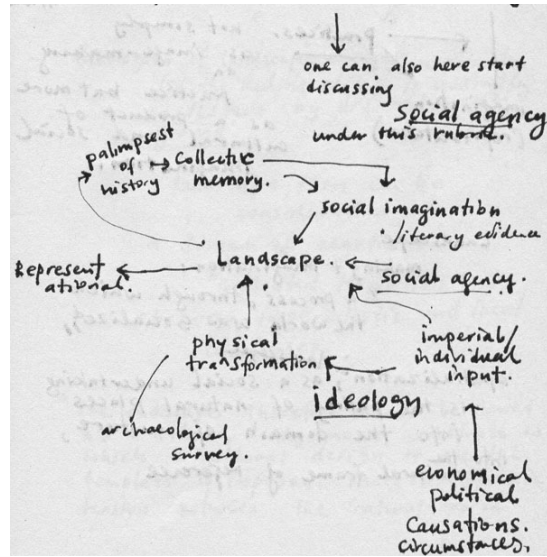

Bamiyan Valley, Afghanistan, March 2001
archaeological site as a contested place of violence

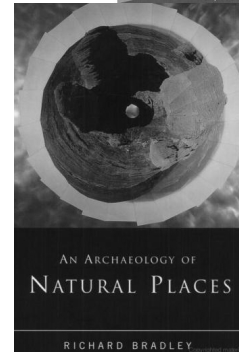

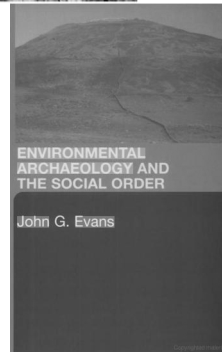

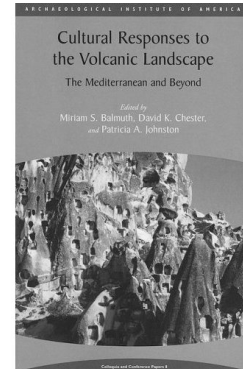

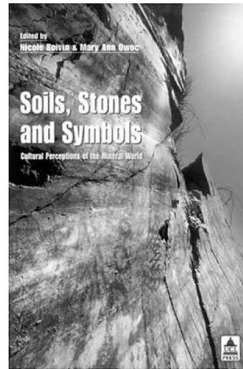

arch 1600. archaeologies of the near east joukowsky institute for archaeology and the ancient world spring 2008

Landscapes of the Near East: understanding a cultural geography
February 4, 2008

Survey archaeology and world landscapes

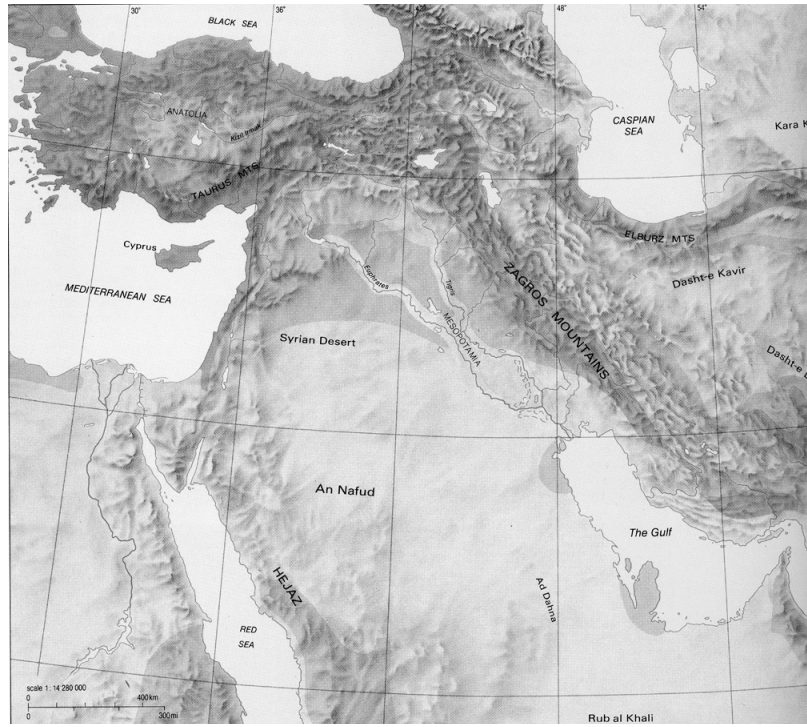

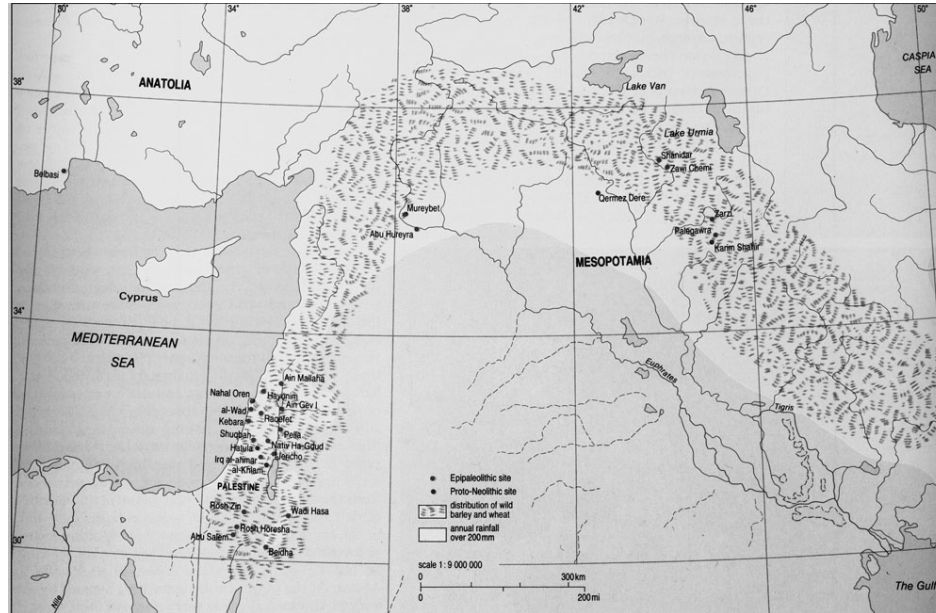

Sedimented landscapes and landscapes with memory:
ancient and modern settlements at the site of Tall-e Malyan, Iran (ancient Anshan).

Cultural landscapes, planned cities:
Bishapur, Iran. Founded by Sasanian king
Shapur I in 3rd c. AD

200 mm annual rainfall line and the distribution of barley and wheat in the Near East, with some Epipalaeolithic and Proto-Neolithic settlements.

Spread of agriculture in the Near East

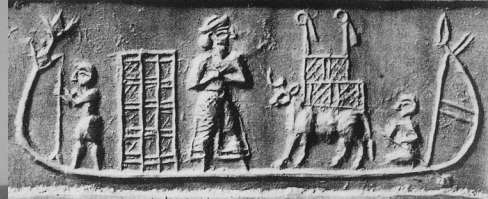

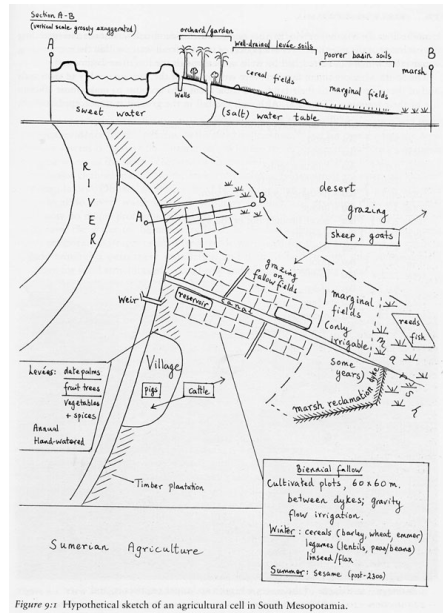

Southern alluvium : the marshes (lately drained by Saddam Hussein's engineers).

Section
Map

Figure 9.12 Hypothetical sketch of an agricultural cell in South Mesopotamia.

Irrigation system and settlement network in Southern Mesopotamia (Postgate)

