

Fernando Carmino Marques é Doutor em letras pela Universidade de Paris IV - la Sorbonne, em 1997, Fernando Carmino Marques lecionou, de 1993 a 2002, língua, cultura e literaturas de expressão portuguesa nessa mesma universidade. Colaborou no Instituto Camões em Paris e foi docente responsável pelo ensino do português nas universidades de Versailles - St. Quentin e Marne-la Vallée. Entretanto publicou vários estudos sobre temas e autores portugueses e brasileiros, dos séculos XVI, XIX e XX. Exerce atualmente a docência no Instituto Politécnico da Guarda.

- - -

Fernando Carmino Marques has a PhD in Humanities from the Paris-Sorbonne University (1997), where he has lectured on Portuguese language, culture and literature from 1993 to 2002. He is a regular collaborator with the Camões Institute in Paris and has been responsible for the teaching of Portuguese language at the Universities of Versailles - St. Quentin and Marne-la Vallée. He has published several articles and books on Portuguese and Brazilian authors from the 16th, 19th, and 20th century. Currently, he is an associate Professor at the Polytechnic Institute of Guarda, in Portugal.