Overview

The Division of Biology & Medicine and the Graduate School work to enhance the training environment for more than 200 postdoctoral appointees at Brown University. Both are involved in support and professional development for their respective postdoctoral researchers. At the Graduate School, the primary contact is Jabbar Bennett, Ph.D., Assistant Dean for Recruiting and Professional Development. In the Division of Biology & Medicine, postdocs are supported by the Office of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies.

The Division of Biology & Medicine is composed of the Alpert Medical School and the Program in Biology. It is home to five basic biology departments and fifteen clinical departments, and is affiliated with seven diverse teaching hospitals in and around Providence. The Office of Graduate & Postdoctoral Studies, headed by Elizabeth O. Harrington, Ph.D., Associate Dean for Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies, supports all BioMed trainees.

Diversity

Individuals from underrepresented racial and ethnic groups as well as individuals with disabilities are always encouraged to apply to postdoctoral positions within the Division of Biology & Medicine.

Office of Institutional Diversity (OID)
OID is headed by the Associate Provost and Director of Institutional Diversity and is committed to increasing and supporting the diverse population of Brown University students, faculty and staff. The office provides leadership for the formulation and oversight of policies related to pluralism and equity, and initiates programs and practices that promote diversity, inclusion and fair treatment of all members of the community. Brown seeks to achieve diversity in the living, learning and working environments by placing emphasis on the recruitment and retention of students, faculty and staff from a wide range of backgrounds and experiences. Brown also works to ensure diversity in the curricular and co-curricular offerings, and invests in the structural supports needed to manage a lively, provocative, and stimulating community.
Website: brown.edu/about/administration/institutional-diversity/

The Office of Student Veterans and Commissioning Programs
The office seeks to provide student veterans and current or prospective officer commissioning program participants with the tools and resources needed to succeed at Brown.
Website: brown.edu/campus-life/support/veterans-and-commissioning-programs

Representation

Postdoc Advisory Panel (PAP)
This volunteer group of postdocs represents over 200 postdocs throughout Brown. Volunteers meet periodically with the Division of BioMed Associate Dean for Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies, Postdoctoral Program & Data Coordinator, and the Graduate School's Assistant Dean of Recruiting and Professional Development with a goal to enhance the postdoctoral experience at Brown and to get involved. Website: biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/pd/pap

National Postdoc Association (NPA)

Brown University is an institutional member of the NPA. Postdocs at Brown have FREE Affiliate membership when joining with a Brown e-mail address. Follow the instructions below. Consider becoming a member of the NPA, as they provide a national voice and seek positive change for postdoctoral scholars.

1. Go to: www.nationalpostdoc.org
2. Click on Membership --> Join the NPA --> Affiliate Member
3. Enter requested information and choose "Brown University" from the Affiliate Institution drop-down menu. MUST have and use a valid Brown e-mail address to register.

Criteria (back to top)

According to the Provost Handbook of Academic Administration, Section 4.7.3 (2013), postdoc appointments must meet the following criteria:

- an appointment of at least 12 months
- hold a PhD or equivalent degree
- have fewer than 5 years postdoc experience
- be paid through Brown University or external funding

Website: brown.edu/about/administration/dean-of-faculty/handbook-academic-administration

Classification of Titles (back to top)

The Division of Biology & Medicine offers two postdoc trainee titles:

Postdoctoral Research Associate is an employees of the University; receiving a salary and employee benefits for which they are eligible. Individuals are appointed on an annual basis, for a maximum term of five years.

Postdoctoral Research Fellow: individuals who conduct research supported by fellowships or training grants and are paid stipends. Postdoc Research Fellows are not considered Brown University employees, but are eligible to participate in a University health and dental plan, receive vacation and sick time, maternity & medical leave, and backup care. Individuals are appointed on an annual basis, for a maximum term of five years.
*See chart at end of handbook for a comparison of titles.

Policies

Salaries & Stipends
It is the policy of the Division of Biology & Medicine that both Postdoctoral Research Associate and Fellow support be commensurate with the NIH postdoctoral fellow scale as defined by the NIH Notice Number: NOT-OD-14-046. All new Brown paid postdoctoral appointments and reappointments within the Division should utilize the most updated NIH scale as the expected salary minimum, noting that all compensation is based on availability of funding and satisfactory job performance.

Appointment Letter Enclosures
- Conflict of Interest Policy
- Patent Policy
- Harassment Policy
- Postdoc FY2014 step levels

Website: biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/pd/policies

What to do on the first day at Brown

Postdocs hired in the Division of Biology & Medicine will be contacted by the OGPS Postdoctoral Program & Data Coordinator to schedule an orientation for the first day at Brown. After a 30 minute orientation, postdocs are advised how to complete the I-9 process, complete payroll tax documents, arrange for automatic paycheck deposit, obtain a Brown ID, activate a Brown e-mail account, & register at the Office of International Students and Scholar Services (OISSS).

Website: biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/admin/pd_forms/1st_Day_Visa.PDF or biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/admin/pd_forms/1st_Day_US.PDF

Benefits

Postdocs have 31 days from the first day of employment to elect Health and Dental Insurance benefits. Postdocs are eligible for:

- Health Insurance
- Dental Insurance
- Vacation Time: 10 paid vacation days per year.
- Sick Time: 12 paid sick days per year.
- Maternity and Medical Leave
6 weeks of pay (funding will be determined by the department depending on grant or contract funding source/availability). Postdoctoral Research Associates may be eligible for Temporary Disability Insurance payments for up to 60% of pay through the state of Rhode Island.
Website: brown.edu/about/administration/human-resources/protected/benefits/benefits-screencasts

• Backup Care
Managed by Brown University’s Benefits Office, Backup Care provides eligible employees with access to back-up care when they experience a temporary breakdown in their normal care arrangements. Employees will be able to schedule care for self, a child and/or an adult when needed. This program will help employees get to work with confidence, knowing that their loved ones are in skilled hands. The back-up care program covers both planned and unplanned care needs, at low cost to employees, with 24/7 access to experienced back-up care specialists. These specialists find and schedule licensed, qualified care on the employee’s behalf, any time an employee’s usual provider cannot be there.

Workday

Workday is Brown's integrated administrative information system for human resources. Log into Workday before coming to campus to complete your employment record and enroll in benefits. Once you’ve activated your electronic account services, you'll be able to use the user name and password you establish to log in to Workday.

Log in to Workday at wd5.myworkday.com/brown/login.flex

For an introduction to navigating the Workday system, visit the Workday Project Training Page, which includes screencasts and How-To documents for getting familiar with the system and performing tasks. You will receive the following tasks in your Workday inbox to complete on or around your first day of work:

1. Complete personal information
2. New hire next steps
3. New hire benefits elections
Website:  http://brown.edu/about/administration/workday/training/employee-self-serve-training-screencasts/employee-and-manager-self-service-workday-screencasts

You will also want to do the following to ensure your records are complete in Workday:

1. Add Emergency Contacts and View and/or Edit Contact Information
   clpd.viewscreencasts.com/embed/b16b04fb467342caa63f2e0d1e82f4b4
2. Complete Federal Withholding Elections

Communication

OGPS offers several means of communication with and between postdocs. Postdocs will immediately connect with Brown University and other postdocs through:

- Weekly Update- Every Friday, OGPS sends an e-mail highlighting professional development events, conferences, important notices, and information regarding funding opportunities.
- Listserv – Postdocs have access to a listserv to facilitate communication among all postdocs campus-wide. All new postdocs are automatically added to this listserv. Website: listserv.brown.edu and search for POSTDOCBB.
- Facebook- In response to interest in bringing together members of the postdoc community with similar interests, the Postdoc Advisory Panel has established Postdocs in Providence Facebook page.
- LinkedIn- Keep in touch and identify interest groups with similar research interests on Brown University BioMed Postdocs LinkedIn Group. OGPS uses this professional online resource to communicate professional development information, including open positions of interest to the BioMed postdoc community. Website: linkedin.com then search for the Brown University BioMed Postdocs group

Mentoring

The importance of the mentoring relationship is strongly emphasized within the Division, and is based on the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) “Compact Between Postdoctoral Appointees and Their Mentors” which is distributed to all new postdoctoral trainees and their mentors. The Postdoctoral Assessment and Mentoring tool is a component of the Postdoc Mentoring Plan that is now required for Postdoctoral NSF Fellowship Applications. The intent is to document assessment without being unduly burdensome and to serve as a vehicle for discussions of postdoc progress and future training plans between Mentor and Trainee. This is the norm both here and at our peer institutions. The form is not intended to supplant or be in addition to evaluation procedures and forms already in place within T32 training grants.
Website:  biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/fac

Annual Evaluation
(back to top)

An annual Postdoctoral Performance Assessment is used as a means to open the discussion between mentor and mentee regarding accomplishments and areas of concern in the trainee’s development. This process includes a self-assessment, mentor’s assessment (both written), and an ensuing meeting to set goals for the next year. The assessment is signed by the Department Chair and is required for reappointment. BioMed postdocs will receive an e-mail reminder, a few weeks prior to their anniversary date, from OGPS to begin the evaluation process. Notify the Postdoctoral Program & Data Coordinator, Kate_Duggan@brown.edu, when this written evaluation process is complete; this information is tracked in our database.
Website:  biomed.brown.edu/gradpostdoc/admin/pd_forms

Professional Development
(back to top)

Professional development for postdoctoral research trainees within the Division is supported by numerous events and activities throughout the year, offered both by OGPS and with partner Departments/ Centers. Professional development events include Navigating the Publication Process, Communicating Your Science, How to Negotiate an Academic Job Offer, Financial Stewardship, Grantsmanship, Conflict Management, Negotiation Skills, and Career Panels.
Website:  biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/events

BioCareers
BioCareers is a career resource website which provides a large section on career paths in academics and government, and a section on exploring options across a broader range of paths. There is information relating to a job search, webinars, jobs board, featured jobs, jobs marketplace, search basics, and skill building. Membership is free to Brown University affiliates.

The Harriet W. Sheridan Center for Teaching and Learning
96 Waterman Street, Phone: (401) 863-1219
E-mail: Sheridan_Center@Brown.edu
The Sheridan Center offers postdocs and junior faculty four (4) year-long Teaching Certificate programs designed to help participants develop a reflective teaching practice, improve their effectiveness as an instructor and prepare for careers in higher education. In addition to these programs, the Center offers the following free, confidential consultations for members of the Brown teaching community:
- Teaching Observations
- Departmental Micro-Teaching
- Course Consultations
- Student Evaluations Consultation
- Presentation Consultations: Conferences & Poster Sessions
Grants: Educational Components
- Preparing for the Academic Job Market
Website: brown.edu/about/administration/sheridan-center/gateway/for-postdocs

CareerLAB
167 Angell Street, Phone: (401) 863-3326
E-mail: careerlab@brown.edu
CareerLAB welcomes postdocs to attend their many programs. In collaboration with the Sheridan Center, the Academic Job Search Series covers the process, resources and timelines of conducting an effective job search for tenure track or other research positions in higher education. CareerLAB also offers programming related to career options beyond academia in business, government, non-profits and research settings. The graduate student sections on the CareerLAB website will be helpful for post-docs seeking either academic or non-academic jobs.
Website: brown.edu/campus-life/support/careerlab

Initiative to Maximize Student Development (IMSD) Program
The IMSD Program, funded from an NIH grant, provides complementary training support for graduate students in underrepresented groups to significantly increase the participation of these groups within the fields of biomedical and behavioral research. The Program includes a “menu” of skill-based training modules. The IMSD Program also offers a unique seminar series which showcases cutting edge scientific research of guest lecturers with interactive seminars focusing on career issues of scientists, such as non-traditional career paths, conflict resolution, ethics, and effective leadership and management. While the modules were originally developed with pre-doctoral trainees in mind, postdocs are welcome to attend the Program’s modules and seminar series as they share the need for professional development and progression of many of the same skills.

Website: biomed.brown.edu/imsd

Center for Computation and Visualization (CCV)
94 Waterman Street, Phone: (401) 863-7557
CCV offers three levels of Certificates in High-Performance Computing (HPC) for Brown postdoctoral researchers who complete workshops in topics ranging from basic to advanced. The goal of this program is to help train participants with diverse backgrounds to use computing more effectively in their research at Brown and beyond. The program's focus is on practical and timely knowledge that participants can apply immediately to their own research and that, in the long term, will broaden their career options in both academia and industry.

Website: brown.edu/Departments/CCV/hpc-cert

Continuing Education (CE)
200 Dyer Street, Phone: (401) 863-7900
CE offers postdocs the paid experience of teaching a course of their own choosing for 1 to 7 weeks as part of the Summer@Brown program. These courses, around the 300 level are for talented pre-college students from all around the world wishing to obtain a college experience. Brown postdocs are encouraged to submit proposals by November 1.

Website: brown.edu/ce/faculty/course-proposal.php

Ethics Training

(back to top)
storage, and privacy; intellectual property, legal and ethical concerns regarding animal and human-subjects research; peer review; the publication process; conflicts of interest; research misconduct; mentoring relationships, and research collaborations. Invited speakers make presentations and small group discussion of case studies takes place with participation of trainees and faculty. Postdoctoral researchers with career development grants are welcome to participate by making a request to Tracey_Cronin@brown.edu no later than September 1. This training satisfies NIH requirements.

Website: biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/rcr

Brown Ethical and Responsible Conduct of Research Education (BEARCORE)
This training is required for all postdoctoral fellows supported by NSF grants submitted on or after January 4, 2010. NSF-funded investigators are responsible for assuring that any postdoctoral researcher completes the BEARCORE program within one year of their beginning NSF supported work. This training does not satisfy NIH RCR requirements.

The half-day program aims to:
• Acquaint new researchers with ethical issues that emerge in all disciplines.
• Equip participants with the resources and contacts to address them.
• Prompt students to reflect on the ambiguity of ethical questions that emerge as part of the research process.

Research

Office of Vice President for Research (OVPR)
OVPR advances the research enterprise at Brown by supporting our faculty and students in all aspects of their research activities from the conception of new ideas through the dissemination of the knowledge they create. OVPR includes:
• International Research Administration
• Research Initiatives Office
• Office of Research Opportunities
• Office of Sponsored Projects
• Research Protections Office
• Technology Ventures Office
Core Facilities
In addition to the mentor’s lab, Brown's research network features many BioMed Core Facilities, advanced facilities situated on-campus and at partner institutions throughout the state. Available to faculty and students alike, these facilities encourage discovery and innovation by providing state-of-the-art equipment and resources.
Website: biomed.brown.edu/research/facilities

The Directory of Research and Researchers (DRR-B)
The DRR-B was designed to help Brown faculty promote their own research activities, and to make it easier for various audiences to keep track of ongoing research at Brown.
Website: research.brown.edu/research/search.php

BioMed Faculty Directory
Biomed faculty are organized into one or more of fourteen clinical departments at Brown's affiliated hospitals, five basic science departments on the University campus, and two hybrid departments (which include both clinical and basic sciences faculty). Browse the directory by faculty member's last name or department.
Website: biomed.brown.edu/research/directory

Library Research
The Brown University Library system is made up of six individual libraries, each of which has a specific function:
Individual libraries:
- John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Library (humanities and social science)
- Sciences Library (physical and biological sciences, and maps)
- Orwig Music Library
- Art Slide Library
- John Hay Library (special collections)
- Annmary Brown Memorial Library

Independent libraries:
- John Carter Brown Library (history and humanities)

Funding Opportunities
While a mentor is the best resource for finding funding opportunities, there are others in the BioMed Division available to support postdoc efforts in finding and applying for grants.

Training Grant Coordinator (TGC), Brenda Slaney
Phone: (401) 863-2067, E-mail: Brenda_Slaney@brown.edu
The TGC offers workshops throughout the year during which postdocs learn how to search for and identify funding opportunities. Workshops are advertised in our Weekly Update. OGPS also hosts a webpage dedicated to postdoc funding opportunities with listings by due date and type of funding mechanism.
Website: biomed.brown.edu/grad-postdoc/funding/pd

BioMed Research Administration (BMRA)
BMRA website is a valuable resource for the Division of Biology & Medicine faculty. Find opportunities listed by Search Engines, Federal Links, Fellowships and Private Links.
Website: biomed.brown.edu/bmra/funding

The Graduate School External Funding Webpage
The Graduate School hosts a webpage dedicated to external funding opportunities. This webpage is organized by many different categories such as discipline, demographics, international, user defined, and funding source.
Website: brown.edu/academics/gradschool/external-funding

Brown Card Office
69 Brown Street, J. Walter Wilson 5th floor, Room 511, Phone: (401) 863-2273, E-mail: Brown-Card-Office@brown.edu
The Brown Card Office is responsible for issuance and administration of the Brown University ID Card. The Brown ID Card is the official Brown University identification card. All faculty, staff, students and visitors are required to obtain a Brown ID Card. You will need it for identification, security and access to University buildings and services. Brown ID provides:
- Access to appropriate buildings
- Access to University libraries
- RIPTA U-PASS – ride the bus and trolley for free: ripta.com
- Access to all Brown’s SafeRIDE shuttle systems
- Based on an agreement between Brown University and RISD, ride on RISD Rides Route 1 & 2.
Website: brown.edu/about/administration/brown-card/

Transportation

Transportation Office
JW Wilson, 69 Brown St, 5th Fl - Suite 511, Box 1865
Phone: (401) 863-3157, E-mail: transportation@brown.edu
Brown’s Transportation Office provides resources and information that promote convenient, safe, and environmentally friendly ways to move around the campus, travel to and from Brown, and reduce traffic congestion on College Hill. The office manages all aspects related to parking on campus including traffic demand management, parking lot maintenance, permit issuance, service of parking equipment, and parking enforcement.
Website: brown.edu/about/administration/transportation/

Brown University Shuttles (BUS)
The Brown University Shuttle system features professionally licensed chauffeurs who have passed extensive background checks and have received, in addition to driver training, Brown University’s sexual harassment, diversity, and crime-prevention training. BUS drivers are uniformed and wear a photo badge. This system includes:

Brown Campus Shuttle
A scheduled fixed-route evening service around the Brown campus.

South Main Street Express Shuttle
A daytime express service between the Alpert Medical School and 121 South Main Street.

RISD Rides Route 1 and RISD Rides Route 2
Based on an agreement between Brown University and RISD, students may ride on either school’s shuttles with a proper Brown or RISD ID.

Brown onCall
Arranges rides for Brown ID holders from a Brown University campus building to a rider’s registered off-campus residence within the Brown onCall coverage area, or vice versa.

SEAS onCall
A reservation-based transport for members of the Brown community who have disabilities and need assistance getting around campus.
Zipcar
Brown University has partnered with Zipcar to offer Brown community members an alternative to driving or bringing a car to campus. Zipcar is an internet-based service that allows hourly and daily rentals. It is a turnkey program that includes everything – vehicles are parked on campus, online reservation system, gasoline, insurance, and billing. Website: brown.edu/about/administration/transportation/zipcar

Housing

The most popular neighborhoods in which postdocs live include, in descending order, College Hill (02906), Downtown/ Federal Hill/ Jewelry District (02903), and Pawtucket/ adjacent to College Hill (02860). These neighborhoods are convenient for those using RIPTA & trolleys, Brown Shuttles, biking, driving (car or motorcycle) and walking to campus. Depending on living arrangements, location, and number of people, postdocs report paying between $500 and $1,500 per month in rent/mortgage to live in these areas. Postdocs have identified the following resources as the most valuable in finding affordable, convenient and safe housing:

Auxiliary Housing Office
South Wayland House, corner of Brown and George Streets,
Phone: (401) 863-2541
The Auxiliary Housing Office at Brown University offers information and postings about housing on campus and in the community. Website: brown.edu/Administration/Auxiliary_Housing/

International Postdocs
(back to top)

Office of International Student and Scholar Services (OISSS)
J. Walter Wilson, 69 Brown Street, Suite 510, Box 1906
Phone: (401) 863-2427, E-mail: oisss@brown.edu
OISSS supports the University’s internationalization and facilitates the integration of international students and scholars into the Brown community. In that, OISSS serves as a resource to admitted international researchers and their families as well as academic departments, and other administrative offices on and off campus.
OISSS provides advising services with respect to immigration and visa matters, work permission, orientation, cultural adjustment and personal concerns. Their website also offers a handbook containing valuable information for internationals transitioning to Brown’s community.
Website: brown.edu/Administration/OISSS

Brown International Organization (BRIO)
BRIO originated in 1983 as a peer support group for foreign students. Since then it has evolved into a cultural organization open to any person in the Brown Community, and hosts multiple events throughout the year, each with an international focus.
Website: mygroups.brown.edu/organization/internationalorganizationbrown

International House of RI
8 Stimson Avenue, Phone: (401) 421-7181
E-mail: mvk@ihouse.necoxmail.com
International House is a non-profit, community based multicultural center supported by membership fees, individual contributions, class fees, and fundraising projects. They provide English as a Second Language Classes, international events and manage a unique Friendship Program, pairing international students interested in socializing with an American host family.
Website: internationalhouseofri.org

Center for Language Studies
195 Angell St, 2nd floor, Phone: (401) 863-3043

National Postdoc Association (NPA)
The NPA provides members with a Quick Guide to Visas and an International Postdoc Survival Guide.
Website: nationalpostdoc.org/international-issues

Other International Resources at Brown
Postdocs can engage in activities ranging from the Brown Ballroom Dance Club to volunteering in the local community through the Swearer Center. Most international student groups are geared toward undergraduates, but many host fun events and interesting activities open to postdocs, as well as to the larger Brown community and the public.

Many of Brown’s academic centers, departments, and faculty greatly enrich both Brown’s international community and the greater Brown community, providing opportunities to learn about different cultures, languages, politics, and issues of the day. Check out events hosted by the departments of Africana Studies, East Asian Studies, French Studies, German Studies, Hispanic Studies, Italian Studies, Judaic Studies, and Portuguese and Brazilian Studies, Slavic Languages, just to name a few. The Watson Institute for International Studies Office of Global Engagement, Third World Center, Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, John Nicholas Brown Center for Public Humanities & Cultural Heritage offer events and opportunities as well. Website: events.brown.edu and mygroups.brown.edu

Exiting Brown

When postdocs leave their postdoc position, they should provide to their mentor a dated and signed resignation letter indicating their next position (title and institution/company) as well as last day of work at Brown University. OGPS will prompt postdocs to update their LinkedIn profile to represent their new position and will send them an anonymous online Exit Survey created by their Postdoc Advisory Panel. OGPS also issues an official letter acknowledging the end of the postdoc appointment.
