Student Employment Recruiting Open Lab Session

An open lab session for student employment recruiting will be held on September 26, 2019, in South Street Landing, multipurpose room 497, from 11 a.m.-12 p.m. Registration is required, please register here.

This is an opportunity for those who employ students in Workday to bring their work and receive hands-on assistance from student employment staff.

A learning program has been created in Workday for those who recruit and manage students, you can access the student requisition and recruitment learning program here.

Future open labs for student employment recruiting will be announced.

Register for the September 26th session here.
