A MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF POLICE

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) is making available the Annual Security Report to all members of the Brown Community. This report contains information on campus security, policies and procedures at Brown University, as well as certain crime statistics reported to DPS and Providence Police.

The safety and well being of our students, faculty, staff, alumni and visitors is top priority. DPS is committed to providing the highest level of professional police and public safety services and works in conjunction with several departments and agencies to ensure and maintain a safe learning and working environment.

The information provided in this report is designed to be a resource and to alert the campus community of the current programs, policies and procedures related to crime awareness and reporting at Brown University. This report also includes statistics for the previous three years concerning reported crimes that occurred: on campus, in certain off-campus buildings, properly owned or controlled by Brown University, and on public property within or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

This information is being provided in accordance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. The Jeanne Clery Act is a federal law that requires colleges and universities across the United States to disclose timely and annual information about campus crime and security policies. We encourage all members of the Brown University Community to use this report as a guide and to take an active role in maximizing your personal safety, both on and off campus.

This publication is made available on October 1st each year and can be accessed online at the below website. Copies of this report are available at the Department of Public Safety Headquarters, located at 75 Charlesfield Street, Providence RI. You can request a copy by mail by contacting DPS at (401) 863-3103.

Mark J. Porter
Executive Director
Chief of Public Safety
Department of Public Safety Staffing, Authority, and Jurisdiction

The Brown University Department of Public Safety (DPS) is a fully-accredited police department through the Commission on the Accreditation of Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA), which administers a rigorous accreditation process whereby law enforcement agencies must adhere to over 480 standards.

DPS is a full-service Law Enforcement Agency that provides a wide array of police and public safety services to the Brown Community. DPS is comprised of two major divisions. The Police and Law Enforcement Division, which is our largest division, is primarily responsible for the safety and security of the entire campus community. This division consists of over 80 members who are responsible for crime deterrence, crime investigation, dignitary protection, emergency response and handling routine calls for service. Our police, public safety and security officers patrol Brown’s campus by vehicle, bicycle and foot twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

The division’s sworn police officers are required to attend a state certified police academy and are also licensed as Rhode Island Special State Police Officers. All sworn officers are authorized to enforce state statutes and university rules and regulations.

Our Administrative Services Division is responsible for strategic and fiscal planning, building security, technology, community relations and outreach for the department. The Administrative Services Division is also responsible for administering the University’s building access and security systems. All residence halls require card access and are equipped with door alarms. When exterior doors are propped open, or access is gained illegally, an alarm is generated. This division also includes a Community Relations and Outreach Bureau that coordinates safety and educational programs for members of the community, as well as providing crime victim support and advocacy.

The Brown University Department of Public Safety staffs and operates a twenty-four hour state-of-the-art Dispatch Communications Center. The Center handles all emergency and non-emergency calls for service and dispatches officers via a state-wide 800 MHz Radio System.

Public Safety uniformed personnel include all supervisory staff, campus police officers, public safety/security officers, communication control officers and building guards. All officers are equipped with two way radios.

Campus police officers are licensed by the Superintendent of the Rhode Island State Police with police authority on University property and adjacent streets. Every police officer has completed training and is a graduate of the Rhode Island Municipal Police Academy. All police officers are required to meet annual licensure qualifications as designated by Rhode Island state law. DPS personnel work in a collaborative manner with the Providence Police Department (PPD). DPS detectives work with PPD to coordinate the follow-up of particular criminal matters.

DPS, as required by federal law, forwards hate crimes statistics to the Rhode Island State Police (RISP). The National Crime Information Center Network, which is coordinated through the RISP computer system, houses a terminal at department headquarters. Lastly the RISP, PPD, United States Secret Service, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation work with University police whenever a domestic, national or international dignitary visits the Brown University campus.
The Clery Act

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (also known as the Clery Act), requires colleges and universities to:

1. Publish an annual report every year by October 1st that contains three years of campus crime and fire safety statistics as well as campus security policy statements.

2. Have a public crime log.

3. Disclose crime statistics for incidents that occur on campus, in unobstructed public areas immediately adjacent to or running through the campus and at certain non-campus facilities including Greek housing and remote classrooms. The Clery Act requires reporting of crimes in the following categories: Criminal Homicide (includes murder and non-negligent manslaughter), sex offenses (includes forcible and non-forcible), robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, motor vehicle thefts and arson. Schools are also required to report statistics for the following categories of arrests or referrals for campus disciplinary action (if an arrest was not made): Liquor law violations, drug law violations and weapons possession. Hate crimes must be reported by category of prejudice, including race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, and disability. Statistics are also required for four additional crime categories if the crime committed is classified as a hate crime: Larceny/theft, simple assault, intimidation and destruction/damage/vandalism of property.

4. Issue timely warnings about Clery Act crimes which pose a serious or ongoing threat to students and employees.

5. Devise an emergency response, notification and testing policy.

6. Compile and report fire data to the federal government and publish an annual fire safety report.

7. Enact policies and procedures to handle reports of missing students.

Collection of Crime Statistics

In preparing our annual disclosure of crime statistics, it is Brown University’s Department of Public Safety’s policy to collect information reported directly to us and also to formally request information about crimes and disciplinary referrals from Campus Security Authorities (campus officials with responsibility for student and campus activities, including representatives from the Office of Campus Life and Student Services, the Department of Athletics, Human Resources, and Institutional Diversity; see below for more information). In addition, we collect statistics from local law enforcement agencies with jurisdiction for areas where Brown University property is located or areas frequented by students:

- Bristol Police Department
- East Providence Police Department
- Pawtucket Police Department
- Providence Police Department
Note that local police departments are not required to provide statistics, however documentation is required to show a good faith effort was made.

All statistics are reviewed by Public Safety staff members for accuracy and then forwarded to the Chief of Police for final review and approval. Once approved, statistics are submitted electronically to the Department of Education.

By October 1st of each year, the Department of Public Safety sends an email notification to the entire Brown University community of the report’s availability. This email contains a brief description of the information contained in the report as well as a direct web link to the report.

Brown University’s Annual Fire Safety Report is published in a separate document that is available on the Fire Safety Office website. A link to this report is included in the Department of Public Safety’s email notification as well.

Campus Security Authority

A Campus Security Authority (CSA) is a term used in the Clery Act to describe someone who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities. The regulations that govern the Clery Act define a CSA as:

1. A campus police department or a campus security department of an institution.
2. Any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus police or security department, such as an individual who is responsible for monitoring entrance into institutional property.
3. Any individual or organization specified in an institution’s statement of campus security policy as an individual or organization to which students and employees should report offenses.
4. An official of an institution who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities, including but not limited to, student housing, student discipline, and campus judicial proceedings.

Pastoral and Professional Counselors on campus are not considered to be CSA’s when they are acting in the role of pastoral or professional counselors and are not required to report Clery reportable offenses. Professional counselors at the University are encouraged to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes on a voluntary basis to a CSA or the Department of Public Safety.

Pastoral Counselor: An employee that is recognized by that religious order or denomination as someone who provides confidential counseling and who functions within the scope of that recognition as a pastoral counselor.

Professional Counselor: An employee whose official responsibilities include providing psychological counseling to members of the institution’s community and who also functions within the scope of their license or certification.
Missing Student Information

In accordance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 (20 U.S.C. § 1092(j)), Brown University has adopted a Missing Student Notification Policy for students as a complement to the DPS’ guidelines for reporting, investigating, and providing notifications about missing persons.

Registering a Confidential Contact Person—In addition to registering an emergency contact, students residing in on-campus housing have the option to identify, confidentially, an individual to be contacted by Brown University in the event the student is reported to be missing and/or is determined to be missing. Any student who wishes to register a confidential contact through the missing student notification protocol may do so by completing a form provided by the Office of Student Life. This contact information will be maintained on file at the Office of Residential Life and shall be confidential and will only be accessible to authorized Brown officials or to law enforcement personal in furtherance of a missing person investigation and/or notification purposes if a student is determined to be missing.

Missing Student Notification—In the event a member of the Brown Community has concern that a student who resides in an on campus student housing facility is missing, he or she should report the matter to any of the following offices at Brown University: Department of Public Safety (401-863-3322), the Office of Student Life (401-863-3145), or the Office of Residential Life (401-863-3500). If it is believed to be an emergency situation, call 401-863-4111 (or x4111 from a campus phone). In the event of a report to the Office of Student Life or the Office of Residential Life, the matter shall be immediately reported to the Department of Public Safety. DPS, in collaboration with other institutional officials and external law enforcement authorities, as appropriate under the circumstances, shall conduct an investigation. As a part of this process, a student’s designated confidential contact may be contacted in furtherance of the investigation of a missing person report. If the DPS’ investigation determines that the student is missing, the University will notify the student’s emergency contact. If a confidential contact has been listed by a student residing on-campus, that person will also be contacted. If the missing student is under 18 years of age, and not emancipated, the University will contact a custodial parent or guardian, in addition to the emergency contact. The University will also notify the appropriate local law enforcement agency within twenty-four hours of the determination that the student is missing. In the event of a missing student scenario, nothing in this protocol shall be interpreted as requiring the University to defer any action, or to delay contacting any individual, law enforcement authority or other entity.

Emergency Preparedness & Evacuation

Brown University has recognized the need to prepare for and to respond to emergency incidents that pose a threat to the health and safety of the Brown community. Upon confirmation that a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees is occurring on campus, Brown University will provide immediate notification of the emergency or dangerous situation to the campus community. Any such notification will be provided by the following methods:

1. BrownAlert System. BrownAlert is a web based notification system used to deliver immediate advisories and instructions to students, faculty, and staff via cell phones, land line phones, wireless PDA, text pager, email and other communication devices. All students, faculty and staff are strongly urged to provide their updated personal cell phone and home or off-campus housing telephone numbers so that we can contact you via the BrownAlert system as quickly as possible in the event of an actual emergency. Cell phone numbers are especially important as these devices provide the fastest and most effective way for users to receive information. Your personal cell phone and landline numbers will only be used for emergency notification purposes. For each number provided you can select ‘private’ to ensure that it will not be listed in any published or on-line directories. Phone numbers can be added, updated or changed by going to ‘My Account’ page at www.brown.edu/myaccount.

2. The Emergency Siren Warning is designed to alert the Brown community of a life threatening emergency on campus such as a hostile intruder, a large chemical release near campus, or a natural disaster where there is no advance warning. The siren is intended to be heard while outdoors. If you are indoors during the test, is is not expected that you will hear the siren or the voice message that follows. If the siren system is used in a actual emergency, members of the community would be directed to seek shelter indoors and additional information would be sent through the Brown Alert emergency notification system via email, text messages, and updates on the Brown homepage. During the test, no action is necessary and there will be no need to seek shelter.

3. Emergency Announcements Webpage. In the event of an emergency where it is deemed necessary, the University will utilize an Emergency Announcement Webpage to inform and update the community members about an emergency occurring on campus. If there is an emergency on campus the webpage will contain information about the nature of the emergency, steps being taken to address the situation, the emergency’s current status with a cumulative chronology, any necessary instructions for the University community; and resources for further information.

Upon confirmation that a significant emergency, or dangerous situation is occurring on campus, the University will, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate its notification systems, unless issuing the notification will, in the professional judgment of the Department of Public Safety, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

In general, the process the University will follow to confirm that a significant emergency or dangerous situation exists is the following:

1. Brown University police officers will be dispatched to confirm that an emergency situation exists (depending on the nature of the situation, the Department of Public Safety may be aided by other University offices to confirm the nature and severity of the emergency, e.g., Department of Environmental Health and Safety, Department of Facilities Management..

2. Assessment of the situation by the Department of Public Safety (in collaboration with other University departments as may be beneficial), appropriate actions to be taken, and activating the alert systems and the content of the messages to be conveyed.

Due to the size of the University and the paramount importance of the safety of the members of the University community, notifications are given to the entire community. The Chief of the Department of Public Safety has the responsibility to activate the University’s notification systems. In the event of a significant emergency or threat to the health and safety of area residents the University, through its Department of Public Safety and Office of Public Affairs and University Relations will communicate with the City of Providence and its appropriate offices for the purpose of providing notifications to area residents. Significantly, the City of Providence can activate a “Reverse 911 System” that provides area residents of the detail of an Emergency Siren Warning System activation by the University. To ensure the effectiveness of its emergency preparedness, the University regularly engages the University community about its emergency and evacuation plans. The activities take the form of classroom and online training, no less than annual tabletop or disaster exercises, and no less than annual testing of its emergency notification systems, In addition, emergency response/evacuation procedures are tested at least four times per year in all student residence halls. Further, through its Emergency Action Plan, each University department is to appoint an Emergency Action Plan (EAP) coordinator who is to review the EAP with departmental employees and promote training as indicated in the EAP.

Timely Warning Policy

In the event that a potential criminal incident has occurred on campus, on non-campus property, or public property running through or immediately adjacent to the campus, a “timely warning alert” will be issued – without disclosing the names of the victims - when it is determined by the Chief of Police, Department of Public Security, that the incident may pose a serious or ongoing threat to the members of the Brown University community.

Alerts are typically issued for the following crimes: major incident of arson, criminal homicide, motor vehicle theft, and robbery. Alerts for the crimes of aggravated assault, burglary and sex offenses are considered on a case by case basis, and depend upon a number of factors. Those factors include the nature of the crime and the continuing danger to the campus community, for example, whether the perpetrator has been apprehended or the threat has been otherwise mitigated. Alerts will be issued DPS via a campus wide email as soon as pertinent information is received and it is determined that the reported incident may pose a serious or ongoing threat to the Brown University community.

Student Violations of University Non-Academic Rules and Regulations

Student violations of University non-academic rules and regulations should be reported by filing a Campus Incident Complaint Form (CICF) with the Office of Student Life, 42 Charlesfield Street, 4th floor. Once an incident is reported through a CICF, the matter will proceed in accordance with the non-academic disciplinary procedures as appropriate. Penalties that can be imposed through the University Disciplinary Council Hearing or an Administrative Hearing include reprimand, probation, deferred suspension, suspension or expulsion. Penalties that can be imposed through a Dean’s hearing include reprimand, probation and deferred suspension. Penalties that can be imposed through a Peer Community Standards Board hearing include reprimand and probation.

While the Office of Student Life is the administrative office designated by Brown University to receive such complaints, Campus Incident Complaint Forms can also be obtained from Public Safety at 75
Charlesfield Street, the Residential Life Offices, or through Resident Counselors. A CICF can be filed with the Office of Student Life.

Violations of Brown’s student code may or may not constitute a violation of criminal laws, thus the filing of a CICF is not synonymous with the filing of a criminal report with DPS. If you believe a criminal act has occurred and you wish to proceed through the Rhode Island criminal courts, you must file a criminal report with DPS or the Providence Police Department.

Campus Disciplinary Process

When the University investigates a claim of sexual assault, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, student participants in the University’s student conduct process, both complainants and respondents, are permitted to have an advisor during a formal investigation, a hearing before the Student Conduct Board, an Administrative Hearing, or a Student Organization Hearing. The advisor may be any person of their choice within the University community who is a full time faculty or staff member and is not an attorney.

The Senior Associate Dean for Student Life may refer student conduct offenses (such as sexual assault or misconduct) that involve possible separation from the University or a transcript remark to the Student Conduct Board (SCB) for a hearing. The SCB will review the evidence, hear testimony, and receive information. The SCB further determines, by a preponderance of the evidence, whether the respondent(s) is responsible for violations of the Code of Student Conduct, and, as appropriate, recommends a sanction. Each hearing panel consists of a member of the faculty, a dean, and a student. When the SCB finds a respondent responsible for a violation of the Student Conduct Code, the Senior Associate Dean of Student Life will impose a sanction. Both the complaining student and the respondent will be notified in writing of the SCB’s responsibility finding and the sanction imposed by the Senior Associate Dean. Both the complainant and the respondent have the right to appeal the decision to the Vice President for Campus Life and Student Services.

Sanctions Brown may impose for violations of the Code of Student Conduct

Violations of the Code of Student Conduct may result in the following sanctions, in order of increasing severity:

1. Reprimand: A reprimand is a written notice that a student has violated the Code of Student Conduct and that another violation will likely result in a more severe sanction.

2. Probation: Probation is a designated period of time during which the student is given the opportunity to demonstrate the ability to abide by the community’s expectations of behavior articulated in the Code of Student Conduct.

3. Deferred Suspension: Deferred suspension is used for offenses found serious enough to warrant suspension, but where the specific circumstances of the case mitigate the offense or for repeated offenses of a less serious nature. Deferred suspension is a designated period of time during which a student is given the opportunity to demonstrate the ability to abide by the community’s expectations of behavior articulated in the Code of Student Conduct. A deferred suspension may be accompanied by a transcript remark.

4. Suspension: Suspension is separation from University for a designated period of time after which the suspended student may petition the Senior Associate Dean for Student Life for readmission to the University. The petition must demonstrate that the student has satisfied any accompanying terms of the suspension. A student who has been suspended may not be on University property without the prior approval of the Senior Associate Dean for Student Life. A suspended student is prohibited from participating in any University activity or program. A suspension may be accompanied by a transcript remark.

5. Expulsion: Expulsion is permanent separation from the University. A student who has been expelled is prohibited from entering any University premises and participating in any University activity or program without explicit permission. An expulsion may be accompanied by a transcript remark.

6. The following terms may accompany any of the sanctions described above, except when noted.

7. Parent/guardian notification: Parents/guardians may be notified, in accordance with applicable regulations, of the outcome of any student conduct hearing.

8. University file entry: A University file entry is a non-permanent entry into a student’s official University file. A copy of the written notification to the student of the outcome of the hearing is placed in the student’s official University file. A University file entry will be removed not later than at the student’s graduation from the University.

9. Restitution: Restitution is the repayment to the University or to an affected party for damages to property resulting from a violation of the Code of Student Conduct.

10. Removal from University housing: Separation of a student from University-owned housing (residence halls and rental properties) may accompany the sanction of any student conduct hearing. The separation from University housing must be for a designated period of time. Conditions for readmission to University housing may be specified.

11. Transcript remark: A transcript remark is a notation on a student’s official University transcript. A transcript remark may accompany a deferred suspension, suspension or expulsion. Following a deferred suspension, a student may petition to have a transcript remark removed after one full semester. Undergraduate students must petition the Senior Associate Dean for Student Life; graduate student must petition the Dean of the Graduate School; medical students must petition the Dean of Medicine and Biological Sciences. For suspensions and expulsions a permanent entry will appear on a student’s transcript.

12. Fines: When appropriate, a fine may accompany the sanction of any student conduct hearing. In general, fines may range from $25 (e.g., damage or theft to University property, failure to evacuate when a fire alarm sounds) to $1000 (e.g., pulling a false alarm).

13. Other accompanying terms: Other terms designed to ensure responsible behavior may accompany the sanction of any student conduct hearing. These terms may include, but are not limited to, educational projects, meetings with educators/counselors, community restitution, housing relocation, and other assignments as warranted.

Silent Witness Program

Anonymous reporting is available on-line at public safety’s website. Click on the Silent Witness link to file an anonymous report of non-violent incidents. This is not an approved method to report crime in progress as the message is received via email and may not be read immediately. Violent crimes should be reported immediately at (401) 863-4111 or x4111 from a campus phone. If the incident can be verified, it will include in the statistics that appear in this document. Reports made anonymously do not allow contact with the reporting witness and therefore, the extent to which the incident can be documented is limited.

Reporting Criminal Offenses

The following offices are designated by the University to receive complaints of criminal offenses. Complaints of criminal activity on campus should be filed with Brown’s Department of Public Safety as it is the University’s law enforcement unit. Students and employees of Brown should report crimes to Public Safety by calling (401) 863-3322. Prompt reporting to Public Safety is important for it facilitates improved investigation and the preservation of evidence. If you prefer not to report alone, you can bring a friend or go through several support offices on campus. Those who prefer to speak with a non-uniformed advocate of the department can call Public Safety’s Special Victims Unit at (401) 863-2542, the detectives, days (401) 863-3412, (401) 863-5376 evenings (401) 863-5292, (401) 863-5291. Reports to Public Safety may form the basis of criminal charges (violations of state or federal law) and/or University discipline cases (violations of Tenets of Community Behavior or offenses under the Standard of Conduct). The victim’s wishes are always taken into consideration.

Criminal reports may also be filed by complainants directly with the Providence Police Department (401) 272-3121. Complainants wishing to file a criminal report with the PPD may request assistance with these procedures from Brown Public Safety or the DPS Law Enforcement advocate by calling (401) 863-2542 or the detectives days (401) 863-3412, (401) 863-5376 evenings (401) 863-5292, (401) 863-5291. Once a criminal report is filed with the Providence Police Department, the decision to prosecute is made at the discretion of the Attorney General. The Attorney General’s Office is also responsible for providing the necessary and appropriate follow-up and communication with the complainant.

The Special Victims Unit is intended to be a year-round, comprehensive support service for victims of crime to include hate crimes, sexual assault, assault and robberies, relationship violence, and stalking. Our law enforcement advocate works cooperatively with Public Safety detectives, Office of Student Life, Psychological Services, and Employee Relations to ensure individuals are knowledgeable about their options for safety. The unit also coordinates events and programming that serves to raise awareness about such sensitive crimes, women’s and men’s self-defense and safety, and the many sources of support available to victims in the state of Rhode Island.
A law enforcement advocate is available to provide post-crisis support to persons who report they have been a victim of a crime. Community members who have not experienced a crime, but want to explore our services are welcome to call as well. Services available include:

- Victim advocacy and support
- Individual and workplace safety-planning
- Reviewing of RI victims’ rights, Campus Sexual Assault Bill of Rights, related law, legal definitions of crimes, and relative legislation
- Providing transportation and accompaniment to local courts, Providence Police Department and the Attorney General’s office as necessary
- Providing resource information, as well as referrals to external agencies servicing victims of crime and their families in Rhode Island and Massachusetts
- Explaining options and procedures for reporting
- Explaining protective orders, court procedures, as well as steps involved in criminal prosecution
- Assisting with obtaining restraining orders

Emergency Blue Light Phones

There are approximately 155 outdoor Emergency Blue Light phones located on or near the exterior of residence halls and University buildings. They are also located on the campus walkways and at the parking garage. Additionally there are approximately 55 elevator phones (equipped for emergency calls) in various campus buildings. Outdoor emergency phones are housed in gray or yellow cases, are mounted directly to building or stanchions, and have a blue light above them. These phones can be used for calling within the University phone system and have a direct speed calling button (marked in red) that will connect you directly with a DPS Communication Control Officer. In an emergency, calls made through the direct speed button also contain a feature that will identify your location to the Communication Officer answering the call. When getting acquainted with the campus, please take the time to note the locations of these phones. The phones also provide Brown students, faculty, and staff with the option to request an escort or Safewalk services, and these calls receive priority assistance.

Brown Building Security

Access to most University facilities is intended to be restricted to student, staff, and faculty of Brown or those with legitimate business with the University. Any person on University property must be able to show proper identification upon request. During evening and weekend hours, most University facilities are kept locked, and both key and card access are restricted to individuals who obtain authorization through proper administrative channels.

Security of both persons and property in residence halls relies greatly on the precautions taken by student residents. Room doors, exterior doors, basement, adjacent fire escapes and fire doors on every floor should be kept locked at all times. Fire doors should be closed. Alarms will be generated within the security systems for any exterior doors propped open where the door is controlled by card access. Do not prop doors open. Close any doors you find propped open. Report immediately to DPS any thefts, or attempted thefts, as well as suspicious activity, so that officers may be dispatched to investigate.
A campus-wide card access system has been installed in all residential dorms and in several administrative building on campus. There is twenty-four hour monitoring of the system and an officer is dispatched if a door is propped, or held open too long, or forced open. As with all technology, the system is not infallible and all students are advised to remain vigilant with regard to security matters.

Transportation Office

Parking: Students are not encouraged to bring cars to the University. Parking is extremely limited on the East Side of Providence in the vicinity of the campus. Additionally, the city of Providence does not allow overnight parking on the streets. Due to limitations of space and zoning restrictions, the University cannot provide parking space for all students, faculty and staff. Use of University parking lots is restricted to individuals who have obtained a valid parking permit from the University. These lots are not continuously patrolled by DPS personnel and should be accessed at night with extreme caution.

The following suggestions are offered regarding the use of any University parking lot facility at any time: do not leave items in plain view, check for loiterers before leaving and upon returning to your car; do not leave your car running unattended at any time; lock your car doors; have keys ready when returning to your car; and check the back seat before getting in your automobile. Please report any suspicious activity in University parking areas to DPS so that an officer can be dispatched to investigate. Vehicles are operated or parked on campus at the owner’s risk. The University is not responsible for fire, theft or damage to, or loss of, such vehicles or any articles left therein.

Safewalk

Public Safety sponsors a Safewalk program, which is a student operated organization. When in operation, Safewalk provides point-to-point walking escorts to members of the Brown community going walkable distances, which may or may not be on the shuttle route. Employees travel in pairs and are equipped with two-way radios. All Safewalk employees wear reflective, yellow vests and employee I.Ds. The service is available Sunday through Thursday from 9:00pm until 2:15am during the academic year. To request Safewalk Services, call (401) 863-1079. When Safewalk employees are not available, members of the community may request a walking escort by calling 3-3322. To become a Safewalk employee, please visit the student employment website.

Off-Campus Student Organizations

Brown University has one recognized student organization with off-campus housing facilities that they own. As is the case with individual students who live off campus in private residences, when problems or matters arise off-campus and are reported to DPS, the response may be coordinated by DPS and Providence Police. All students whether living on or off campus are bound to abide by the Code of Student Conduct and in the cases of reported violations, student in non-university residences are subject to discipline in accordance with Brown’s disciplinary procedures.

Off Campus Living for Students

Being Part of a Neighborhood: You will find that living off-campus is a very different kind of experience from living in a University residence hall. Unlike the residence hall, the neighborhoods surrounding Brown are full of people whose lifestyles, schedules, and living arrangements may vary greatly from yours. The encounter with diversity can be enjoyable, if you adapt your lifestyle to the community you have entered and adjust to its priorities. For example, just as you would not appreciate your neighbors’ making excessive noise while you study for exams, they will not appreciate your making excessive noise while living in the neighborhood.

As a Brown University student, you are governed by the Brown University Standards of Student Conduct. Students have been place under disciplinary sanction resulting from their wrongful conduct while in their off-campus housing. Engaging in disruptive behavior is the violation students are most commonly charged with in off-campus housing; for example, hosting loud and overcrowded parties.
Your interactions with neighbors should be guided by the Principles of the Brown University Community, which state, “The University expects that students will not indulge in behavior that endangers their own sustained effectiveness or that has serious ramifications for the safety, welfare, and academic well-being of themselves and others.”

Home Burglary Prevention for Students and Faculty Living Off-Campus: By far, the most common threat in off-campus residence is burglary. By definition, the crime of burglary is a non-confrontational property crime that occurs when we are not at home. However, becoming a burglary victim can leave a family feeling vulnerable and violated. To avoid becoming a burglary victim, it is important to first gain an understanding of who commits them and why.

The majority of home and apartment burglaries occur during the daytime when most people are away at work or school. Burglaries are committed most by criminals looking for items that are small, expensive, and can easily be converted to cash. Favorite items are cash, jewelry, watches, laptop computers, other small electronic devices are high on the list. Statistics tell us that 70% of the burglars use some amount of force to enter a dwelling, but their preference is to gain easy access through an open door or window. Although home burglaries may seem random in occurrence, they actually involve a selection process. The burglar’s selection process is simple: choose an unoccupied home with the easiest access, the greatest amount of cover, and with the best escape routes. What follows is a list of suggestions to minimize your risk by making your residence unattractive to potential burglars:

1. Keep all doors and windows closed and securely fastened. An open window or door is an open invitation for burglars. Thieves are also quick to spot weak locks that may be easily forced open. Doors should have deadbolt locks with a one inch throw and reinforced strike plate with three inch screws. All windows should have window locks.

2. Secure sliding glass doors. Place a metal rod or piece of plywood in the track and install vertical bolts. These will help prevent burglars from forcing the door open or lifting it off the track.

3. Create the illusion that you are home by using timers on lights, radios and TV’s. Providing an appearance of an occupied home will deter criminals.

4. Keep the perimeter of your home well lit. Installing low voltage outdoor lighting is a cost-effective way to discourage intruders, as well as highlight a house.

Personal Safety Alarms (PALS): Any student, faculty or staff member who is concerned about their personal safety may obtain a personal alarm device to carry and use for alerting individuals nearby that they are in danger. The personal alarm can be carried in a purse/bag, pocket, or attached to a key chain. It can be used in an emergency situation to call for help, draw attention to a situation, or to scare off an attacker. Simply pull the pin and the alarm will sound. To silence the alarm, insert the pin back into the device. PALS are available to all students at no cost.

Faculty and staff may purchase a PAL at the Brown Cashier’s Office, located on the 2nd floor of the Brown Office Building, located on the corner of Angell and Thayer Streets. With receipt of purchase, PALS can be picked up at one of our DPS locations, 75 Charlesfield Street or 310 Thayer Street.

Community notifications are sent by the Crime Prevention Unit alerting students, faculty and staff, campus agencies and local business via email about any crimes, scams and violent incidents, crime prevention programs, Safewalk services and safety tips. If you have any questions about the program, contact the Crime Prevention Unit at (401) 863-1438 between 9:00am and 4:00pm or via email at Campus_Safety@brown.edu.

Sex Offenses/Sexual Misconduct

Brown University, through the policies and procedures of the Office of Institutional Diversity, seeks to provide an environment that is free from sexual harassment and sexual assault. Such conduct seriously undermines the atmosphere of trust and respect that is essential to a healthy work and academic environment. The full policy may be reviewed at http://www.brown.edu/Administration/diversity/documents/SexualHarassmentPolicy.pdf.

Where to go for help
The procedures for dealing with allegations of harassment towards students by faculty or staff differ from the procedures for dealing with allegations of sexual harassment towards students by other students. For alleged student to student harassment, call the Office of Student Life (401) 863-3800, or Dean on Call (24 hours), x4111. If the student is alleging harassment by faculty or staff, the student should contact sexual harassment liaison. Extensive information can be found on this website, on sexual assault, harassment and dating violence, including how to help a friend, date rape drugs, the sexual assault evidence collection exam and emergency contraception. This web site can also connect you to on-campus and off-campus resources for sexual assault, sexual harassment, abuse in dating relationships and harassment and discrimination.

Sexual Assault Response Line

(401) 863-6000. Call this confidential line any time of the day or night to be connected to the university’s Sexual Assault Crisis Counselor, Emergency Medical Services, or the Department of Public Safety. The crisis counselor is also available to accompany a victim to the hospital. Bita Shooshani, Coordinator of Sexual Assault Prevention and Advocacy, 401.863-2794, Bita Shooshani is available to help students affected by sexual violence. Confidential services include support for a survivor or the friends of a survivor, help exploring options to address the incident (such as filing a complaint, if that is the student’s choice) and educational programs for the student community. When you speak to Bita, you do not have to pursue any specific course of action and no action will be taken unless it’s something you choose.

Student Support Services

Student Support Services for students who have had an incident of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking

The Office of Student Life provides crisis services 24 hours a day for undergraduate, graduate, and medical students who may be dealing with personal or family emergencies. Support services are available to students who have had an incident of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking regardless of whether the complainant chooses to report the incident to Student Conduct, campus police, or local law enforcement. Through a Dean of the Day (business hours, 863-3145) and Administrator-on-Call (evenings and weekends, 863-4111) system, students can receive immediate support and resource information. The Office of Student Life can also contact faculty members when appropriate and at the request of a student. Residential students have the additional support of residential peer counselors and live-in Community Directors for crisis support in their residential living areas.

The following types of Support are available upon request if reasonably available:

No Contact Orders (Or No Communication Orders) are temporary directives issued by the Office of Student Life prohibiting communication between or among designated students. No Contact Orders (NCOs) are issued when, in the judgment of a Student Life dean, there is reason to believe that an order would be in the best interest of all parties and the community for promoting peace and civility. NCO’s do not become part of a student’s conduct record unless he or she violates the order as determined by the student conduct system. NCO’s prohibit all forms of communication between designated students, direct or indirect, written, electronic or through a third party. The duration of a NCO is determined by the Office of Student Life, and students may request to have a NCO lifted after an appropriate sustained period of compliance. No Contact Orders are not similar to court imposed restraining orders and do not guarantee that designated parties will avoid sightings or passing interactions on the campus or local community. In some circumstances, a No Contact Order may restrict a student from parts of the campus where he/she would not have to engage in required academic activities. Students who are concerned about their personal safety or need further information about public safety services and options should contact the Department of Public Safety or the Providence Police Department. Students who have questions about NCO's may speak with an Office of Student Life Student Conduct Dean during business hours or with an Administrator On-Call during evenings and weekends.

Academic Accommodations, including faculty notes, course load reduction, tuition adjustment, and graduation planning.

Living Accommodations, including dorm reassignment, off-campus housing permission, changes in meal plans, and access to parking permits.

Working Accommodations, including job changes (work assignments, shift scheduling, and job location).

Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act

The Federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act requires colleges and universities to issue a statement advising the campus community where state law enforcement agency information concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. The act also requires registered sex offenders to provide to appropriate state official notice of each institution of higher education in the state at which the offender is employed, carries on a vocation, or is a student.

In complying with the Federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, the Brown University Department of Public Safety has established a procedure to advise local communities where current sex offender registration information, at which the person is employed or is a student at Brown University, may be obtained. The Brown University Department of Public Safety routinely informs the campus community each academic year where they can find information on registered sex offenders. For more information, please visit the Rhode Island Sex Offender Registry.
