25Live Pro New Event Tool
Old Event Wizard vs New Event Tool

The old Event Wizard is going away effective November 5, 2019 when we switch over to 25Live Pro. The main differences between the Wizard and the Event Tool are:

- The Event Tool is all on one page rather than multiple tabs
- How to select recurring dates
- Locations search
In the test version of Pro, from the dashboard, click Try New Event Form at the top left of the screen, then click Create and Event. When we switch to Pro, the Event Tool will automatically popup when creating an event.
This is what the Event Tool will look like when you open it. There is a menu with the fields that need to be filled in on the left. You can click on any of those links to access that field.
Much of the Event Tool will be familiar to the old Event Wizard and have the same terminology. The following pages will focus on areas where the Event Tool deviates from the old Event Wizard.
Recurring Meeting Patterns

There are now two ways to select dates for recurring meeting patterns:

1. Select Repeating Patterns
2. Click on the dates on the calendar
Recurring Meeting Patterns - Repeating Pattern

From the Pattern Picker select how your meeting repeats.

This will be very similar to the old Event Wizard. Fill in your information and then click Select Pattern.
Recurring Meeting Patterns - Calendar Selection

You may also select dates by click on the dates on the calendar. When you select a date, it will highlight as blue. To remove a date, click on the date again. You will see this popup where you can remove the occurrence selected.

You can also click on View All Occurrences under the calendar, which will show you all of the dates you selected and allow you to remove dates.
Locations Search

When searching for a specific location, type that building name into the locations field.

All spaces associated with that building will show up. You will have the option to Request a room if it’s Available for all of the dates you selected or Request Available if the room is only available on certain dates. If a room is unavailable, it will say Unavailable.
Locations Search

When you select a room, it will be added below the location search field. You can click on Remove to remove the room or View Occurrences (next page).

Here, you have the option to select and unselect dates or add notes about the meeting or change attendance.
