

The Departments of German Studies and Literary Arts are pleased to present

Michael Donhauser grew up in Liechtenstein and lives in Vienna. He has been publishing prose, poetry, and essays to critical acclaim since 1986. He has also translated Rimbaud and Francis Ponge into German.

Recent books include the English translation, Of Things (2016) [Von den Dingen (1993)]; Ich habe lange nicht doch nur an Dich gedacht (2005); Schönste Lieder (2007); Nahe der Neige (2009), Variationen in Prosa. Variationen im März (2013); and Waldwand. Eine Paraphrase (2016).

His most recent honors are the “Lyrikpreis Meran (2004), “Ernst-Jandl-Preis” (2005), and “Georg-Trakl-Preis für Lyrik” (2009)

MICHAEL DONHAUSER

November 8th 7:00pm

Lecture: together with French poet

Nicolas Pesquès

McCormack Family Theater

70 Brown Street

November 9th 6:00pm

Conference: Der Weg des Klangs

German Department library

190 Hope Street

November 10th 6:00pm

Workshop: Eingebungen

German Department library

190 Hope Street

Free and open to the public

Co-Sponsored by the Department Of Comparative Literature