

A joint event by the German Department at Brown University and the German Department at the Johns Hopkins University

“Phenomenology and Literature: New Readings in Husserl”

May 5-6, 2018 Pembroke Hall 202
9:30am-5:30pm 172 Meeting Street

This workshop will consist of presentations and discussions of work in progress, as well as sessions devoted to pre-circulated primary readings. Please register by April 26, 2018 with Wendy_Perelman@Brown.Edu

Tarek Dika (University of Notre Dame)
Alexander Englert (Johns Hopkins University)
Stephanie Galasso (Brown University)
Philippe Haensler (Universität Zürich)
Jean-Sébastien Hardy (Johns Hopkins University)
Stefanie Heine (University of Toronto)
Marcus Mamourian (Brown University)
Michael McGillen (Dartmouth College)
Kristina Mendicino (Brown University)
Jan Tabor (Brown University)
Rochelle Tobias (Johns Hopkins University)
Nicolas de Warren (Pennsylvania State University)
Henrik Wilberg (University of Minnesota)

Co-sponsored by: Max Kade Foundation, the C.V. Starr Lectureship Fund from the Office of the Dean of Faculty, the Department of Comparative Literature, and the Department of German Studies