No más muros, más poesía / Poetry stands up against walls

The Graduate Students from the Department of Hispanic Studies would like to invite you to an informal event among friends and colleagues to support all lives threatened by invisible and physical walls. We will host a poetry reading with an open mic for the public to read either from their own work or the work of others.

Friday, March 8th
6 - 8 pm
Rochambeau House, Music Room, 84 Prospect Street
