

SHIUX SURVEILLANCE: THE DRONE WARRIORS AND THE #NoDAPL MOVEMENT

Photo: Myron Dewey

The panel will explore how the the Drone Warriors' appropriation of military, turn commercial, technology provided a vital tool for the dissemination of Indigenous forms of aesthetic protest against the Dakota Access Pipeline.

Featuring:

Myron Dewey, Founder, Digital Smoke Signals

Lisa Parks, Global Media Technologies and Cultures Lab, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Jennifer Weston, Associate Lecturer of Women's and Gender Studies, University of Massachusetts Boston

April 10, 2018 | 5:00pm | IBES 130
85 Waterman Street, Providence

Reception to follow.

Sponsored by the Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America and Native Americans at Brown