
Goldberg’s work engages most frequently with the early modern period and queer theory. His talk, “Samson Uncircumcised,” deals with circumcision, both literal and figurative, as well as the relationship between circumcision and religious violence.

Sponsored by the Department of English and the Zucker Family Fund.

Co-sponsored by Department of Comparative Literature, Department of Modern Culture & Media and the Malcolm S. Forbes Center for Media and Culture, Cogut Center for the Humanities, Pembroke Center for Teaching and Research on Women, Sarah Doyle Women’s Center, Program in Renaissance and Early Modern Studies.

www.brown.edu/english/news