Thinking Collaboratively
by Susan Meiselas & Wendy Ewald

Pioneers in using explicitly collaborative methods, Susan Meiselas and Wendy Ewald re-framed the conversation on documentary and made post-colonial questions pertinent to the photographic discourse. Meiselas and Ewald will present their collaborative work in photography in different cultural and political contexts and with different communities.

Sponsored by Creative Arts Council Fitt Endowment, Brown University's Modern Culture and Media Department and RISD's Photo Department.
