Honey, Olives, Octopus: Exploring the Elements of the Greek Table
A reading and Q&A with travel-writer and poet

CHRISTOPHER BAKKEN

Christopher Bakken is the author of the culinary memoir, Honey, Olives, Octopus: Adventures at the Greek Table, as well as two books of poetry: Goat Funeral and After Greece (for which he received the T.S. Eliot Prize in Poetry). He also co-translated The Lions’ Gate: Selected Poems of Titos Patrikios. Bakken is Chair of the Department of English at Allegheny College and Director of Writing Workshops in Greece: Thessaloniki & Thasos.

October 2, 2014
5:30 pm
Maddock Alumni Center
Brian Room
38 Brown Street
Brown University

Sponsored by
The Program in Modern Greek Studies

A reception and book signing will follow