Addressing racial trauma in substance use treatment for Black adults

Friday, October 8, 2021
12:00pm – 12:55pm
121 South Main St, Room 247
Zoom: 991 9764 8280

Angela Haeny, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, Yale School of Medicine

Dr. Angela Haeny is an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at Yale School of Medicine and a licensed Clinical Psychologist with specialty in substance use disorders. She received her undergraduate degree in Psychology and Addiction Studies from the University of Minnesota, received her doctorate from the University of Missouri, completed her internship in Clinical and Community Psychology at Yale School of Medicine, and completed a NIDA T32 postdoctoral fellowship through the Division of Prevention and Community Research at Yale School of Medicine. Dr. Haeny is committed to eliminating racial disparities and enhancing diversity, equity, and inclusion, which cuts across all aspects of her work. Her research involves addressing race-related stress to improve drug and alcohol treatment outcomes among Black adults.

The i-BSHS (Innovations in Behavioral and Social Health Sciences) lecture series fosters collaborative discussion on innovative behavioral and social science-based approaches to improving population health.