

how structural racism works

A Roundtable Conversation

February 17, 2016 | 6:30 pm

Building for Environmental Research and Teaching

85 Waterman Street, Room 130

Reception to follow

Panel:

Anthony Bogues, Director, Center for the Study of Slavery and Justice, Asa Messer Professor of Humanities and Critical Theory, Professor of Africana Studies

Jordan T. Camp, Postdoctoral Fellow in Race and Ethnicity and International and Public Affairs, Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America and the Watson Institute

Yalidy Matos, Presidential Postdoctoral Fellow in International and Public Affairs and Race and Ethnicity in America, Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America and the Watson Institute

Margaret Weir, Professor of Political Science and International and Public Affairs, Watson Institute

Moderated by Tricia Rose

Director, Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America and "How Structural Racism Works" Project, and Professor of Africana Studies.

BROWN

For more information on "How Structural Racism Works," please visit www.brown.edu/race.

Co-Sponsored by the Office of the Provost and CSREA.

To request special services, accommodations or assistance for this event, please contact the University Event & Conference Services Office at universityevents@brown.edu or 401-863-3100.