

how structural racism works

Our History Lives in Our Homes

March 4, 2016 | 12:00 pm

The Cogut Center for the Humanities, Pembroke Center, Room 305
172 Meeting Street, Providence, RI

Doors open at 11:30 am and lunch will be available.

Registration required, <https://hsrwproject.eventbrite.com>

A lecture and discussion by Tom Shapiro,

Pokross Professor of Law and Social Policy and Director of the Institute on Assets and Social Policy at Brandeis.

Tom Shapiro will speak over lunch about his research, particularly the role homeownership, race and inter-generational inheritance, which led to his book, The Hidden Cost of Being African American: How Wealth Perpetuates Inequality.

Moderated by Tricia Rose

Director, Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America and "How Structural Racism Works" Project, and Professor of Africana Studies.

Future Lectures:

March 24, 2016

How Structural Racism Works,
Wealth and Structural Racism

March 25, 2016

How Structural Racism Works,
Peeling Back the Layers: Racial
Inequality in a New South City

BROWN

For more information on "How Structural Racism Works," please visit www.brown.edu/race.

Co-Sponsored by the Office of the Provost and CSREA.

To request special services, accommodations or assistance for this event, please contact the University Event & Conference Services Office at universityevents@brown.edu or 401-863-3100.