FAMILY AND GENEALOGY IN THE STUDY OF RELIGION

An interdisciplinary graduate student conference hosted by the Department of Religious Studies at Brown University

Keynote Address:
“Family Romance: The Longest Fiction”
Professor Tomoko Masuzawa,
University of Michigan
Friday, March 18th 6:00pm
Petteruti Lounge

Presentations
Friday March 18th 9am- 6pm
Saturday March 19th 9am-11am
Petteruti Lounge
For full schedule please see: https://goo.gl/KzjZ4a

Sponsored by the American Academy of Religion, New England/Maritime Region (NEMAAR), the Cogut Center for the Humanities, the Department of Religious Studies, the Program in Judaic Studies, the Graduate Student Council, the Department of History, the Department of Anthropology, the Department of Egyptology and Assyriology, the Department of Philosophy, the Joukowsky Institute for Archeology and the Ancient World, the Department of English, the Department of Modern Culture and Media, the Department of Comparative Literature, the Department of American Studies