

On behalf of the Program in Science, Technology and Society, it is our pleasure to invite you to come celebrate three remarkable books by STS affiliated professors Bathsheba Demuth, Ethan Pollock and Lukas Rieppel. After a round table discussion among the authors, we welcome you to join us for a reception and book signing.

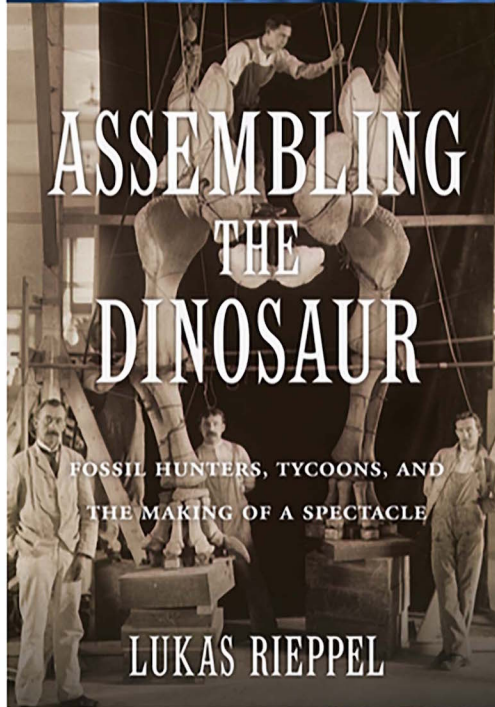

Friday, October 4
4:00 to 6:00pm
Rhode Island Hall
Room 108

FLOATING COAST

Bathsheba Demuth,
Floating Coast: An Environmental History of the Bering Strait

ASSEMBLING THE DINOSAUR

Lukas Rieppel,
Assembling the
Dinosaur: Fossil Hunters,
Tycoons and the Making of a Spectacle

ETHAN POLLOCK

Without the Banya We Would Perish

A History of the Russian Bathhouse

Ethan Pollock,
Without the Banya We Would Perish: A History
of the Russian
Bathhouse

