The New Year brings a “greening” of the Club. Yes, we will be going paperless in 2018. The Club is moving into the digital age, switching to electronic delivery of the newsletter with the March/April edition. Members will be contacted in January and February to verify a current email address.

In addition to gaining communications efficiency, the move to electronic delivery brings with it the opportunity to give our members more frequent updates of all the new and exciting happenings at the Club.

Like us on Facebook! Get updates on menus, special promotions, events and more!

Visit the Club for lunch during our weekly Thursday Community Buffet luncheons; a place to network and socialize while enjoying exceptional cuisine.

The Club will no longer be offering a la carte dinner service to make way for many other social events to be featured in the evenings, and coming soon, a new Chef Series.

Celebrate Valentine’s Day with someone you love. Join us for a spectacular Valentine’s Dinner at our Club.

Wishing you a prosperous New Year!

When the cold, cold days of January and February start, I start to crave comfort. Warm fires, soft sweaters and of course, comfort foods are what my soul needs. My cooking style often leans toward slow braises, thick stews, roasting root vegetables, and grandma’s classics. Come to the Faculty Club this Winter and enjoy some Braised Pork Shanks, 9 hour Short Ribs, Classic Stews and Hearty Soups.

Somewhere around mid-February, the tropics start to call me. Florida’s amazing citrus fruits, Jamaica’s Jerk Chicken, Cuban Pork and Black Beans, and Grilled Red Snapper. “Floribean” Food becomes a bright oasis in the cold of a Providence Winter. I’m sure our kitchen will be playing with many interesting flavors of the tropics and we hope you can stop in for Lunchtime sunshine.

February 13th is Mardi Gras, which to me signals that Spring is right around the corner. I absolutely love the festive foods of New Orleans during the wonderful Mardi Gras season. The Club will be featuring some Classic Gumbo, Jambalaya, Etouffee and King Cake. This is a party that should not be missed. Save room though, Valentine’s Day is the next day and we will be wowing you and your loved ones with some very special, romantic dishes.

Have a great Winter my friends, and be sure to stop in to your Faculty Club to say hello, or better yet to have lunch or plan a special party! We’ll be here…Peace!
