Printing Our Passion: Zine Culture at Brown University and Beyond

Thursday, April 12, 2018

6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

14A Washington Mews, 1st floor

(NYU, between University Place and 5th Avenue)

New York City

Zines are self-published, do-it-yourself works made for passion instead of for profit. Learn about the history and role of zine culture at Brown University and beyond. Join the discussion as we consider how zines create community, give voice to marginalized peoples, document political movements, and—as analog objects—push back against digitization and the Internet in a politically charged era.

Featured Speakers:

-Malana Krongelb '19 is the curator of Brown University's first zine collection, the Malana Krongelb Zine Collection for the Christine Dunlap Farnham Archive and the Sarah Doyle Women's Center. She is an Ethnic Studies major, a zinester, and an artist.

-Mary Murphy is the Nancy L. Buc Archivist at the Pembroke Center, where she oversees the Center's mission to preserve and promote women's history by maintaining and stewarding the Christine Dunlap Farnham Archive and the Feminist Theory Archive.

-Louise Sloan '88 is Deputy Editor of the Brown Alumni Magazine. She's been an editor and writer for print and online publications including the New York Times, Glamour, Ms., Salon.com, Out, Ladies' Home Journal, Health.com and The Huffington Post.

Space is limited and registration is required. Please reply to martha\_hamblett@brown.edu or 401-863-3433 by April 6.

This event is co-sponsored by the Pembroke Center Associates and Brown University TBGALA.
