Biology of Human Aging

SPONSORED BY:
The Biology of Aging Initiative
Division of Biology and Medicine and the Warren Alpert Medical School

Yousin Suh
Albert Einstein College of Medicine
9:30 AM
Functional genomics approach to develop targets for slowing aging in humans

Mary Armanios
Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine
10:30 AM
The Telomere Syndromes: A Paradigm for Molecular Medicine

Dennis J. Selkoe
Harvard Medical School
11:45 AM
Molecular Understanding of Alzheimer's and Parkinson's Diseases Predicts Novel Therapeutics

Andrew Dillin
University of California, Berkeley
2:00 PM
Orchestrating aging across a troubled soma

Gerald Shadel
Yale School of Medicine
3:00 PM
Mitochondrial Stress Signaling in Disease, Aging and Immunity

Monday, May 23rd, 2016

All lectures will be held in the Sidney Frank Hall Auditorium
185 Meeting Street, Providence, Room 220

Coffee: 9:00 AM Reception: 4:00 PM
For more information, contact:
Tammy Glass (401) 863-9654
Tammy_Glass@Brown.Edu

http://brown.edu/go/BOA